Monitoring Station Begins Air Testing

$30,000 In Equipment At New Lab

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Marin today got a status symbol, marking its entry into the age of air pollution —a roomful of instruments to measure how bad the air is we breath.

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District has squeezed almost a ton of instruments worth $30,000 into Marin's first air monitoring station in a second floor apartment at 402 Second Street, San Rafael.

COLORED BALLOONS

It was dedicated this morning by Marin and district officials, and 15 colored balloons, filled with helium, were released to publicize "Cleaner Air Week" Oct. 22-28.

The station is the six-county district's sixth, and will be manned weekdays by Henry Horlbeck, 38, of Concord. An "analytical instrumentation specialist," he is paid $693 a month.

The instruments, lights blinking and pump whirring, continuously measure and record the amount of pullutants in the air, and record wind and sunlight, explained Wayman Siu, chief of air monitoring for the district.

TYPICAL OF MARIN

San Rafael was picked as site of the station, he said, "because it is most typical of the county, and you have to go where the people are." The district's enforcement section maintains mobile monitoring devices, so some information will be collected elsewhere in Marin, Siu added.

For the past five or six years, the district has kept a small smog measuring instrument atop the county communications center building in San Rafel. It was read daily by a dispatcher, who then telephoned reading to the district office in San Francisco.

The new station, Siu said, "will provide us with much more complete information than was possible before."

A glass tube has been run up the inside of the station's chimney to provide the instruments with sniffs of air. Each instrument sucks in its own air for measurement of various pollutants.

Also soted in the living room are four steel tanks of gas — carbon monoxide, synthetic air, propane and hydrogen — used to calibrate the instruments.

The station has three aims.

Beulah Dies Hard, Dumps Floods On Texas Coast

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Waning Hurricane Beulah surged farther inland today, leaving hundreds of square miles of death, destruction and growing floods in her wake.

The monster storm's main track stretched 160 miles into Texas from Brownsville, the coastal point where she first raged ashore yesterday.

Curving on a more westerly course as she advanced, Beulah finally dropped below minimum hurricane force—75 miles per hour— early today.

Floods boiled up along rivers and creeks faster than harried disaster relief officials could keep track of them.

A 13-day-old storm that began in the Atlantic, Beulah claimed 30 lives—six in Texas. Eighteen died in the Caribbean and the rest perished in Mexico's southern regions.

In an unprecedented move the State Department announced through Texas officials at Austin that the United States and Mexico had declared a disaster area along the border Rio Grande, where citrus crop damage was at least $50 million.

"The U.S. Immigration service is to open the international border and it is to remain open until further notice," a Texas spokesman said.

Tornadoes dealt damage in the millions of dollars. A final accounting of the storm's monetary harm was days—or possibly weeks—away.

Electrical power was shut off to about one-fourth of the Texas

Wes Westrum Resigns As Manager Of Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Westrum resigned today as manager of the New York Mets, effective immediately. Salty Parker, a coach, will take over for the rest of the season.

Westrum, who will be 45 in November, first joined the Mets as a coach in 1964 after having served in a similar capacity with the San Francisco Giants for six seasons. He retired as an active player with the Giants in 1957.

Goldberg Challenges Hanoi For Bomb Halt Statement

Rumors Not Enough For Any Peace Try

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg today asked North Vietnam for a definite and specific statement as to whether a half of U.S. bombing would lead to meaningful negotiations without advantage to either side.

In a major policy speech before the 122-nation U.N. General Assembly, the chief U.S. delegate reoffirmed that the United States favors peace talks and is willing to negotiate at Geneva or elsewhere.

He appealed to all U.N. members collectively and individually to aid in the search for peace. He also reaffirmed the U.S. belief that the United Nations has responsibilities under its charter to take a hand in the Vietnam problem.

Goldberg noted that Hanoi has indicated a cessation of the bombing "could" lead to negotiations but he said that Hanoi has not made a definite commitment nor has any of its allies "conveyed to us any authoritative message from Hanoi that there would in fact be neogitations if the bombing were stopped."

NO REPLY

"We have sought such a message directly from Hanoi without success," he said. "On its part, the United States would be glad to consider and discuss any proposal that would lead promptly to productive discussions that might bring peace to the area."

He then asked:

"Does North Vietnam conceive that the cessation of bombing would or should lead to any other results than meaningful negotiations or discussions under circumstances which would not disadvantage either side?"

Goldberg dealt with a wide range of world problems, including the Middle East, but his main stress was on Vietnam.

BOMB QUESTION

He asked North Vietnam's allies, presumably including the Soviet Union, "what would they do or refrain from doing, and how would then then use their influence and power" to bring peace if the United States halted the bombing of North Vietnam.

"Constructive answers to these questions would aid in the search for peace," he said.

Goldberg repeated that the United States does not seek a military solution to the Vietnam problem, but he noted that neither North Vietnam nor its adherents have yet agreed to the objective of a political settlement rhough negotiations.

He expressed hope that Hanoi would agree.

Turning to the Middle East, Goldberg appealed for flexibility on the part of all on the method of bringing peace to the area. No appropriate method, including good offices or mediation, should be excluded, he declared.

He repeated the principles laid down by President Johnson last June calling for a withdrawal of Israeli troops, recognition of all that each nation has a right to live in peace, freedom of passage through international waterways, justice for refugees and determination of the status on with all concerned.

U.S. Vietnam Casualties Near 100,000

SAIGON (UPI) — American casualties in the Vietnam war neared the 100,000 mark, according to losses announced today.

In the fighting, North Vietnamese artillery rained hundreds of shells on U.S. forts defending South Vietnam's northern border against an estimated 35,000-man Communist force in the third straight day of heavy bombardment.

FIGURES GIVEN

U.S. spokesmen said as of last Saturday 13,365 American servicemen had been killed, 83,443 wounded and 749 listed as missing in the war—a total of 97,557. Last week alone U.S. forces suffered 236 men killed, 1,774 injured and 4 missing.

The spokesmen said North Vietnamese artillery and mortars yesterday straddled Con Thien, Dong Ha, Gio Linh and other Marine fortresses just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) separating the Vietnams for the third straight day.

American forces fought back with more giant B52 Stratofortress raids, artillery and offshore naval gunnery in an attempt to smash the North Vietnamese guns.

MUDDY FRONT

But spokesmen said six Leathernecks died on the muddy front yesterday and 47 fell wounded. They said 10 Marines have been killed and 179 wounded since Tuesday as the North Vietnamese tried using monsoon flooding rains as a cover for their almost unprecedented barrages.

American commanders said more than 500 U.S. troops have fallen in the area this month alone.

The Communists were suffering more. According to U.S. spokesmen, North Vietnamese

Anti-Maoist Is Executed

HONG KONG (UPI)—An anti-Mao leader was publicly executed in Shanghai today after a mass trial attended by thousands of persons in the city's main square, Shanghai Radio reported.

Thirteen other persons were given stiff prison terms, ranging up to life, in the public trial conducted by the Shanghai People's High Court, the radio said.

The broadcast did not say how the execution was carried out. In the past, condemned Chinese have been executed by a bullet fired into the brain.

WAR IN THE HOMESTEADS

Marin Police Recruit Citizens To Help Trap Cunning Burglars

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

The first shock comes with realization some stranger has been treading softly through your home.

An overturned chair, an empty drawer, a ransacked jewelry box . . . loose change spilled across the rug.

Property stolen from the living room and bedroom is one thing, but a home has never again the same secure feeling after a burglary.

And with the number of breaking and enterings increasing in most of Marin, more and more families are experiencing that uncomfortable feeling.

Law enforcement officers, far from being at their wit's end in the face of increased activity on the house-breaking front, are joining battle with the light-fingereed brigade on two fronts.

Men like Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa believe the public can play an even greater role in this particular fight against crime.

"We work to encourage neighbors to call their law enforcement officers the moment they see someone or something suspicious about nearby property," said Mountanos.

"Many people," he added, "think they would be putting us to inconvenience if they call, and it turned out to be a false alarm. But we encourage false alarms."

In the year ending Sept. 1, there were 484 burglaries of homes and businesses in the county's unincorporated area, compared with 532 over the same period last year.

But since then, young thieves

Two More Resign Over Viet Policy

SAIGON (UPI)—Two more young American employes of the International Voluntary Services (IVS), which functions as a private Peace Corps in Vietnam, quit today in protest against the U.S. war effort.

The director of IVS in Vietnam, Don Luce, and three other executives resigned yesterday.

Daughter Of Rusks, Negro Married In Stanford Rites

STANFORD (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk's daughter was married to a Negro today in a Stanford University chapel ceremony attended by her parents.

The bridegroom, Guy Gibson Smith, 22, is a data processor employed by a private contractor at the Ames Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in nearby Sunnyvale.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Smith of Washington, D.C., and a June graduate of Georgetown University in Washington.

B. Davie Napier, dean of the chapel, performed the 11 a.m. ceremony, attended only by close relatives, including the groom's parents.

Secretary Rusk escorted the bride.

The romance was a well-kept secret. The first intimation came when Rusk arrived in the Bay Area yesterday. He rejoined his wife, Virginia, who had been staying with friends in the vicinity since last weekend. Mrs. Rusk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foisie, live in Berkeley.

Italian President Feted

The dinner was given by the City of Los Angeles, the Los Angeles World Affairs Council, the Italian-American Community of Southern California and the Association of Motion Pictures and Television Producers.

Saragat

Taking part were Gov. Ronad Reagan, Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, Arizona Gov. Jack Williams, Cardinal McIntyre, Roman Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles, and figures from the business and art worlds.

"Even if we cannot override the federal capital, "we have a moment of regret that you spent your birthday in Washington," said Reagan to Saragat who observed his 69th birthday Tuesday.

Riflemen's Probe Demanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid a duel of words over gun control legislation, Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan proposed today a Senate investigation of Pentagon policy toward the National Rifle Association.

Griffin

The Republican asked the Senate Armed Services Committee to find out why the NRA has become "the exclusive sales agent" for surplus Army rifles.

His request coincided with initial Senate committee action on President Johnson's hotly contested firearms control bill.

That measure, bitterly opposed by the NRA, was approved yesterday by the Senate juvenile delinquency sub-committee.

The 5 to 4 decision was only a preliminary skirmish in the gun control battle, which will be waged later in the full Judiciary Committee and in the Senate itself.

Merman Is Guardian

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Musical comedy star Ethel Merman and her son-in-law have been named guardians of Miss Merman's two grandchildren.

Miss Merman's daughter, Ethel M. Geary, was found dead in a resort cabin near Denver Aug. 22, an accidental overdose of sleeping pills listed as the cause.

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Forty-eight hours of heavy rains has collapsed 1,000 homes in the Hindu holy city of Bihar, killing 5 persons and injuring 60 others, official dispatches said yesterday. They added the rains have caused flooding in Gaya and the state capital of Putna, washing 10,000 acres of crops.

Federalists Check Rebel Benin Plot

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian federal troops today occupied the capital of the Republic of Benin, a day-old, self-proclaimed nation that rebelled yesterday to fight the Lagos government alongside breakaway Biafra.

Lagos forces, greeted by crowds waving palm fronds, entered Benin City and seized a main square, a British government report from the scene said. Firing was heard east of the capital area.

The federal government's advance came only 12 hours after Benin's declaration of independence and was regarded as a major victory in its 10-week old civil war with Biafra, the rebellious Eastern state, and the Midwest.

Biafrans took the Midwest region in August and installed Maj. Albert O. Okonkwo, a U.S.-trained physician married to an American, as administrator. Okonkwo issued Benin's independence statement, then disappeared from sight yesterday.

Okonkwo had earlier accused the military government of Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon in Lagos of trying to "impose an unacceptable type of government on our people."

House GOP Gets Wiretape Backing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Republicans, feuding with Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark over the war on crime, today enlisted more than 1,000 federal investigators in their drive for greater use of "bugging" and wiretapping devices.

The House GOP task force on crime made public a statement of the Association of Federal Investigators in which the agents publicly disagreed with their superiors and urged greater use of eavesdropping devices by law enforcement officers.

"Until now the only federal spokesman on this issue has been Atty. Gen. Clark," said Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., in a speech prepared for House delivery. "But now a group of more than 1,000 federal career employees active in law enforcement has spoken out in direct opposition to his view."

Poff is chairman of the task force, which has drafted an anticrime bill that would permit bugging and wiretapping under court authority in certain types of crime and national securty matters.

The association's statement endorsed the GOP proposal and, at the same time, said it was "appalled" at Clark's recent order clamping stiff controls on electronic surveillance activities by federal agents.

The battle between Clark and the task force began when the group accused him of "hamstringing" the war on crime by imposing strict new guidelines on federal use of electronic surveillance devices.

The attorney general replied that the guidelines "bolster anticrime efforts by assuring that the prosecution of law violators is no longer hindred by the improper use of eavesdropping devices."

Suez Canal Skirmishes Continuing

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian tank and artillery units battled across the Suez Canal for the second straight day today and four Israelis were killed and six wounded in the fighting, ar army spokesman said.

The skirmish at El Qantara in the canal's northern sector brought the heaviest Israeli casualties since a fierce cross-canal exchange July 14 that left seven Israelis dead and 22 wounded.

The Egyptians scored a direct hit on an Israeli bunker, injuring several soldiers, the spokesman said. Israeli gunners claimed strikes on two Egyptian tanks, but it was not known if they were destroyed.

The battle began at 7:55 a.m. local time when the Egyptians opened up with small arms and machine guns, gradually intensifying their barrage to recoilless rifles, tanks and heavy artillery, the spokesman said.

Israelis returned the fire. U.N. observers requested a cease-fire and the Israelis agreed to it about an hour after the firing began. But a few minutes later, the army spokesman said , Egyptians began firing again with light arms and the Israelis shot back.

Federal Help Asked In Ghetto Insurance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Insurance coverage in "riot-prone" ghetto areas requires government help, says Louis W. Niggeman, president of the Firemen's Fund Insurance Co.

The job is too big for private industry alone, Niggeman told the annual meeting of the Society of Property and Casualty Underwriters yesterday.

The federal government should provide re-insurance for the underwriters in the face of large riot losses such as those in Newark, Detroit and Watts, he said.

"We cannot continue to pay losses of a magnitude that was never contemplated in our original contracts. On the other hand, exclusion of the riot clause from our policies is not the answer. If riots continue as a peril to the economic health of either the individual or business, the private insurance industry should continue its part but with adequate safeguards" he said.

Niggeman listed two other points in a three-point program he said should be adopted:

Individuals within ghettos who are acceptable risks should receive some sort of subsidy for premium costs they cannot pay as long as they are economically deprived.

He also advocated that insurance companies make their full services available to support any government rehabilitation program—but on a loss reimbursement basis.

Bishops Give Church Union Big Advance

SEATTLE (AP) — Episcopal participants in the consultation on church union today had a go-ahead from their bishops to proceed with the drafting of a specific plan to unite their church with nine other major denominations.

The move could add a practical dimension to the talks, which so far have been confined to working out a consensus on basic principles rather than on a definite blueprint.

Assessing progress already made on principles, the bishops called it a "significant advance toward Christian unity in matters of doctrine, worship, sacraments and ministry, which have long divided loyal followers of Jesus Christ."

Most of the other churches involved already have authorized their delegations to begin putting the fundamentals into a framework.

Sonic Booms Outlawed Over Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — The city council has outlawed sonic booms, declaring them to be a public nuisance.

The unusual ordinance, believed to be the first such law in the nation, prohibits aircraft from flying over the city in such a way as to cause the shocks.

The council yesterday unanimously approved the ordinance after its sponsor, Councilman Klaus Kemp, said the law was necessary to "protect the peace, health, safety and welfare of citizens in the city."

Kemp drafted the ordinance after numerous complaints by citizens that the sonic booms were damaging their homes and, in some cases, shattering windows.

The city attorney's office said while the new ordinance does not contain a penalty clause, any violation of a city law is a misdemeanor. A pilot convicted of having caused a sonic boom conceivably could face a $500 fine or six months in jail.

Tear Gas Halts Negro Rioting In Ohio City

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Store windows were shattered along a six-block front and three persons were injured slightly in a disorder in the East Side Negro section last night.

About 200 police, armed with shotguns, tear gas and nightsticks, restored order after several hours. One of the injured was a policeman hit by a rock. The others were Negroes.

In another Ohio city, Dayton, police arrested about 50 persons—mostly teen-age Negro youths on disorderly conduct charges—during a second straight night of disturbances.

One fire was reported during the trouble on Dayton's West Side last night. There was also some window breaking, looting and vandalism in the area, where 131 arrests were made Tuesday night.

The Columbus disturbance broke out near a building picketed by 10 persons who claimed the owner refused to rent space to the Congress of Racial Equality.

Safety Director Fred Simon said less than 40 persons caused the trouble but at one time more than 1,000 milled in the area.

have been caught who have admitted burglarizing 69 homes, many owners of which had not bothered to report them.

"Very often our investigating officers are told by the victim after a burglary that they remenbered seeing someone scouting round the house earlier," said the Sheriff."A phone call to us in time may very well nip the burglary in the bud."

One day, a citizen put through a call to the Sheriff's Office and deputies arrived at a house in time to put the handcuffs on the "Pillowslip Gang" and solve 35 outstanding burglaries in one swoop.

The gang, which had kept police hopping mad in three counties for months, got its name by the use of pillowslips to carry off the loot. When last seen, the gang members were disappearing behind the bars of state prison.

The way a would-be burglar cases a joint is ingenious if not original.

He selects a house which might produce something profitable and calls it on the telephone, using the name from the mailbox as source for obtaining the number.

The burglar keeps calling until he receives no answer. If a resident picks up the receiver, he claims he has a wrong number or hangs up without saying anything.

Other prefer the personal contact touch. They ring doorbells and if someone answers the door, they ask for a person they know doesn't live there.

Mountanos said: "Stopping the mail and the papers while on vacation is very important. But a word to a neighbor to keep a watch over the house while you're away is likely to do more good."

San Rafael Police Chief Chiesa agreed and added: "Our eyes and ears are very often those of the public and we depend on them more and more."

He put the blame for the increase in the number of burglaries in San Rafael from 137-175 in the first six months of 1967 on "an influx of burglars not only into San Rafael but throughout the county."

Chiesa thought too that as habitual drug taking increased, so would burglaries. Addicts needed instant cash to maintain the habit.

If places like the county, San Rafael, Fairfax, Mill Valley and Ross are showing an increase, figures out of Sausalito show a police crack-down in that city is gaining results.

In the first six months of 1966, there were 133 burglaries in Sausalito. From January to June 30 this year, the number had dropped to 6. Auto thefts had slumped from 20 to nine.

The city's police chief, Edward S. Kreins, said: "There have been drops in other forms of crime but the reduction in burglaries is something in which this department can justly be proud."

Talks to civic groups, the repainting of patrol cars, resumption of foot patrols in the downtown area, the encouraging of businessmen to use alarm systems were all part of an intensified program to stamp out burglaries, said the chief.

Officers have also been filling out "field interrogation cards" on people seen near property . . . who they are, what they are doing there and what they are wearing.

"We have had isolated instances of people being stopped and questioned in their own driveways," said Kreins. "But on the whole people don't mind that the police are doing a thorough job and we have not had one complaint."

Burglaries community by community in the first six months of 1967 were as follows with last year's comparitive figures in brackets:

Belvedere: residences 4 (4); other property 2 (0).

and Viet Cong soldiers in South Vietnam suffered 1,744 men killed last week—3.5 deaths for every Allied soldier slain in combat during the seven-day period.

The South Vietnamese government reported 215 troops killed and 591 wounded last week. Saigon's forces have suffered 50,015 men slain in the war. Other Allied forces lost 46 men killed and 126 wounded last week, spokesmen said.

Guerrilla and anti-guerrilla warfare erupted throughout South Vietnam yesterday, spokesmen reported. The biggest kill came on the central coast where American helicopter gunners and minigun-firing Air Force "spookie" planes killed at least 40 Viet Cong.

In the air war, U.S. and Navy jet pilots flew 97 missions against North Vietnam but the clouds and rainy weather barred them from striking near Hanoi and Haiphong, spokesmen said.

land mass. Brownsville was the hardest hit city in the state. Beulah screeched ashore there with 160 m.p.h. winds and rains too heavy to measure. Nearly every building was damaged in the coast town of Port Isabel, population 3,500.

Lack of water was a problem elsewhere. The municipal filtering plant at Corpus was fouled by Gulf backup. The situation was the same along the coast, where some cities reported up to 85 per cent destruction.

Restoration of electrical power was days away, utility company spokesmen said.

Beulah kept her hurricane status for hours longer than expected. Once over land, most hurricanes quickly lose force.

She was centered 60 miles west of Corpus Christi at 5 a.m., when hurricane warnings finally were lowered.

Tragedy and the joy of a new childbirth were marked at Red Cross shelters in Alice. A little girl was born at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday in one shelter. The parents named her Beulah.

No Dust Danger Seen For Moon Astronauts

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Space engineers said today Surveyor 5 has dispelled fears that astronauts landing on the Moon or leaving the lunar surface might be endangered by dust or craters created by rocket exhausts.

The Surveyor spacecraft, which made a gentle landing on the Moon Sept. 10, carried out an experiment to see what rocket thrusters would do to the lunar soil.

According to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the results "filled an important blank" in information needed before Apollo astronauts are dispatched to the Moon.

Three small rocket engines on Surveyor 5 were fired by radio command for two-tenths of a second. Their high-speed exhaust gases dug no holes and created "no appreciable dust cloud," NASA reported.

"This information," the space agency said, "indicates there will be no problem associated with the effects of the rocket exhaust of the lunar module which will carry two astronauts to and from the Moon."

Surveyor 5 and its predecessors already had established the lunar surface is strong enough to bear the weight of the landing craft to be used in the Apollo project to put men on the Moon by 1970.

SHARING OF A SECRET

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson leans over to hear a whispered greeting from an elderly well-wisher in Watertown, S.D. The First Lady yesterday began a five-state, four-day Midwest tour to visit small towns and inspect government anti-poverty, beautification and welfare projects. (AP Wirephoto)

English Treasure Trove Located

LONDON (AP) — Divers have found a sunken blanket of gold and silver coins believed to be part of a $2.8-million treasure that disappeared into the Atlantic's grayness with three ships of Admiral Sir Clowdisley Shovell's Mediterranean fleet in 1707.

Fortune-hunters had been searching for it ever since.

A private expedition, supported by a Royal Navy unit, hauled up 1,500 gold and silver guineas, crowns and pieces of eight yesterday from about 100 feet of water off the Scilly Islands, some 25 miles from England's extreme southwestern tip.

"This is only a fraction of what is down there," a diver said.

Pro-Gaming Socialite Candidate For Mayor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Socialite Lloyd Downton announced his candidacy for mayor yesterday on a platform calling for gambling on Alcatraz Island.

He also favored free bathing and housing for hippies and fans on the ocean front to blow away fog.

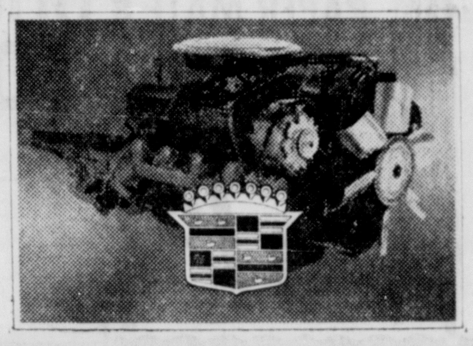
Cadillac presents elegance in action!

Shown above is the Fleetwood Eldorado, the world's finest personal car; below, the popular Hardtop Sedan deVille. Cadillac Motor Car Division

And the "inside story" for 1968 starts with the biggest, smoothest V-8 engine ever put into a production motor car.



Brilliant new styling • Dramatic new interiors • Totally new instrument panel • Concealed windshield wipers • Improved variable ratio power steering • New disc brakes available • Wide choice of eleven exciting new body styles.

Now, enter a new era of luxury car performance. Cadillac's new 472 V-8 has the greatest torque, or usable power, of any passenger car engine and the newest combination of engine components since Cadillac pioneered the V-8 fifty-three years ago. You will notice a brilliant improvement in passing performance that in no way compromises the reserve of strength for Cadillac's usual power conveniences.

You will also be impressed with its amazing quiet—so remarkable that only its responsiveness reminds you that a great new engine lies under the hood.

Cadillac for 1968 provides, in addition, its well-proved triple braking system with finned drums to deliver smooth, straight stopping power. Front disc brakes are available for those who prefer the further refinement of an advanced disc-and-drum combination, and this year they're standard on Eldorado. You may also choose a greatly improved air conditioning system that moves more air more quietly.

Whether your preference is for one of the more traditional models—or the classic beauty of the Eldorado—come in soon and discover new elegance and excitement in luxury motoring!

GIANT SATURN BOOSTERS

Five huge Rocketdyne J2 engines dwarf a test engineer at a rocket test facility at Santa Susana in Ventura County. The engineers will power the second stage of Saturn V launch vehicle during Apollo 4 mission early next year. The engine, most powerful liquid hydrogen-propelled stage ever scheduled to fly, will burn for 6 and one-half minutes and boost the rocket to near orbit speed of 15,400 miles per hour.

Poverty Drive Held Violation Of Privacy

The San Geronomo Valley Association has issued a six-point policy statement denouncing public exposure of the poor and operations of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council.

The statement follows membership rejection Aug. 21 of EOC plans to include the valley in a poverty program for West Marin. It will be sent to the board of supervisors, which is scheduled Oct. 10 to consider deleting the valley from the target area.

Saying the association opposes "intrusion" of the Marin EOC and the federal Office of Economic Opportunity "into the lives of valley residents," the statement remarked:

"Public exposure of individuals and families who are in financial difficulties through no fault of their own is degrading, demeaning and destructive of the self-respect and human dignity necessary in achieving financial security and financial success."

That EOC means of identifying "so-called 'poverty areas' is clearly an invasion of privacy" and not effective in "pinpointing the genuinely needy."

That EOC methods to introduce a program to the area have been "arrogant, overbearing and contentious;" programs offered are already provided through the state, schools, foundations and charitable organizations, and that OEO and EOC operations are "questionable on both moral and ethical grounds and are repugnant" to the nation's principles.

The association said it favored public aid to the needy, but felt OEO programs had been ineffective. Throughout the united States.

The statement also was sent to Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

Hedy Lamarr Sued Over Book Royalty

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Hedy Lamarr has been sued for $303,900 by her former manager, Earl Mills, who contends Miss Lamarr broke an agreement to pay him 10 per cent of royalties from her ghost-written book, "Ecstasy and Me."

Mills said in a suit filed in superior court yesterday that he received only partial payment.

Pan Am Service Back To Normal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pan American World Airways was operating normally today following a brief walkout by several thousand workers.

After a strike yesterday of about 12 hours, the 7,000 Pan Am workers were recalled to work by the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railway and Airlines Clerks at the request of the National Mediation Board.

The strike ostensibly involved a wage dispute but an underlying issue was a representation dispute, still to be settled, between the clerks union and the Teamsters Union.

Novatan Arraigned On Morals Offense

Judge Peter Allen Smith scheduled plea entry for this afternoon. Koontz, of 445 Sunset Parkway, Novato, is accused of the misconduct in Novato on Sept. 10. Novato police arrested him Tuesday.

South Viet Losers Claim U.S. Spoiled Elections

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. Embassy has received a letter from four defeated South Vietnamese presidential candidates demanding "that the U.S. government stop intervening in Vietnamese internal affairs."

There was no immediate comment from U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, to whom the letter was addressed.

The letter claimed that the United States had intervened "with the aim of legitimizing the rigged and undemocratic Sept. 3 election."

It apparently referred to the 22 election observers sent by President Johnson and to statements by Bunker that the election was "run fairly and freely."

Chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky were elected president and vice president in the election, defeating 10 civilian tickets. Several of the defeated civilians have since accused Thieu and Ky of rigging the elections.

The letter to Bunker was signed by lawyer Truong Dinh Dzu, who ran second to Thieu and Ky, Phan Khac Suu, assembly chairman, who ran third and also-rans Nguyen Hoa Hiep and Vu Hong Khanh. Pham Thai, a defeated senatorial candidate also signed the letter.

Negro Educator Gets High New York Post

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Margaret Douglas, a district superintendent, has been named to the $30,000 a year post of deputy superintendent in charge of curriculum, highest position ever held by a Negro in the New York City public school system.

The Board of Education voted 5-0 last night to approve the appointment of Mrs. Douglas, a native of Washington, D.C. She had been a superintendent of District 19, the predominantly Negro East New York section of Brooklyn.

Judge Tells U.S. To Pay In Gridders' Air Tragedy

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Judgments totaling nearly $50,000 have been awarded in the 1960 crash of a plane carrying the California Polytechnic College football team.

They were the first judgments in some 35 suits filed in the crash that killed 22 persons, including 16 member of the team, in Toledo, Ohio.

Kunzel ruled earlier that the federal government was liable because of negligence of federally employed air traffic controllers.

The pilot and co-pilot were among the dead. The owner of the chartered plane went out of business.

The largest of the judgments was $25,446 to Phyllis Stewart of San Luis Obispo. Her son, William, 19, was an end on the team.

Survivors who were also awarded damages were William Hugh Dauphin, 26, Shafter, Calif., $12,435; Carl G. Bowser, 30, Bakersfield, $5,409; Brent E. Jobe, 26, Yuma, Ariz., $3,069 and General Owens Jr., 27, Fresno, $2,046.

Orthodontists Elect Officers

Extension Plea Of Ross Rentals

Ross Town Council heard a plea last night for a 10-year extension of the deadline, which otherwise would make existing non-conforming rental units illegal next February.

Atty. Julius H. Selinger, representing the Ross Property Rights Assocation, said his clients need more time to amortize their investiments.

The council authorized Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott to confer with Selinger and seek a compromise that would head off a special election threatened by Ross Property Owners Association.

Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott pointed out that the ordinance passed in 1963 provided for a five-year amortization period. Councilmen commented that some units have been rented for many years.

John Chase, representing the property owners association, said residents are concerned about multiple use of single-family residential property.

Councilman Natalie G. Lewis estimated that from 40 to 50 non-conforming rental units are involved.

Selinger, who said he was seeking equity and compromise, has drawn up a proposed ordinance.

Meanwhile the Ross Property Rights Association is circulating an initiative petition that could result in a special town election.

Selinger explained that the association's present time schedule is to have the petition and a proposed ordinance presented to the council in time for action at its February meeting.

The council will then have two choices, Selinger said. It can either enact the proposed ordinance, or reject it and call for a special election on it.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen said, "We all hope to arrive at a compromise without the expense of an election."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said, "I don't favor two-family use of a single family lot, but one has to be reasonable."

The council authorized Elliott to confer with Sellinger on possible compromises and report back.

Tourism Up; Travel Gap Still Remains

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some 1.5 million foreign tourists are expected to have visited the United States by the end of 1967, but there still will be a "travel gap."

John Black, chief of the U.S. Travel Service, told President Johnson yesterday of a 30 per cent increase in the number of foreign visitors over last year, but noted also that 4 million Americans were expected to go abroad before year's end.

Senate Passes LBJ Slum Dweller Aids

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has handed President Johnson a big victory by approving two of his major programs for improving living conditions for slum dwellers.

It voted 62 to 28 to give the President $537 million for the model cities program and 59 to 31 to allow him the full $40 million of contract authority he asked for rent subsidies. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen persuaded 16 other GOP senators to support the rent subsidies bill.

The allotments were riveted yesterday into a $10.4-billion omnibus money bill on which the Senate is expected to complete action today.

The $537 million for model cities is $300 million more than the House allowed and substantially all the administration said it needs for this new program.

The total includes the full $400 million authorized for special grants to cities this year, plus $12 million in planning money and $125 million in special urban renewal funds for use in the model city areas.

Deaths Tied To 'Rainbow' Diet

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The Oregon medical examiner said yesterday possibly as many as eight Oregon women have died from unsupervised use of so-called "Rainbow" diet pills during the past four years.

Dr. Russell Henry said the pills, color-coded to be taken in a prescribed pattern, were not dangerous themselves.

However, he said studies prompted by a series of deaths among dieting women indicated strongly that taken in the wrong combinations and in large doses the pills could cause death.

He said there was evidence that six, and possibly eight, deaths were caused by the pills.

"We can't positively prove the cause of death, but we can establish the probability by exclusion of factors," he said.

Watermelon Toss At Auto Results In $115 Fine

David L. Boese, 19, of 124 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, was fined $115 yesterday for hurling a piece of watermelon from a car, shattering the windshield of an oncoming car.

He was fined by Judge David R. Baty after a trial before the judge in Northwest Marin Justice Court, Point Reyes Station.

Boese was riding in a convertible eastbound on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on Aug. 7 when he threw out the piece of watermelon, the California Highway Patrol reported.

It broke the windshield of the westbound car driven by Paul Wilhelmsen of Alamo, Contra Costa County, as the cars passed just inside the west boundary of Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

Judge Baty also ordered Boese to pay for replacing the windshield.

Mummified Infants Found In Old Trunk

NEW YORK (AP) — An old trunk found in the basement of a Manhattan apartment house has yielded the bodies of three mummified infants, one of whom may have been dead for 47 years.

The bizarre and unusual case came to light when the trunk was opened last night.

Dr. Paul Herman, assistant medical examiner, set an autopsy examination of the infants today to determine how they died.

The discovery was made when John Hartnett, superintendent of the building on West 181st Street in the Washington Heights section advised tenants to clear a basement storage area of unwanted items.

Hartnett told police he found one trunk with the name Anne Solomon on it. It was opened in the presence of Jacob Solomon, 67, whose wife Anne died in 1954 at the age of 48.

Inside the children were found laying side by side—swaddled in cloth and with newspapers wrapped on the outside. Dr. Merman described the bodies as "well kept."

One of the papers was an edition of the defunct Evening Sun dated Jan. 20, 1920. Another was the defunct Evening World dated March 4, 1922 and the third was the old Evening Journal of Oct. 17, 1923.

Solomon told police his wife had been previously married in 1933 but that he had no knowledge of her having given birth to any children.

SONG AND DANCE

Reagan's Daughter Kicks Off Campaign

TOTOWA, N.J. (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan's pretty blonde daughter, Marureen, 26, kicked off the Passaic County Republican election campaign here last night with a song and a pep talk.

More than 300 Republicans gave Miss Reagan a standing ovation at the end of her song spoofing the Great Society, sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic":

"We won't have any trouble in our great society,

"And when our taxes double, that won't bother you and me.

"Our bold and bright Utopia is a giant spending spree,

"That brings prosperity."

She got another round of applause when she said, "Welfare should never be good enough to stay on it."

Miss Reagan attacked the federal rat control bill, saying it is going to cost $6 per U.S. citizen and will only affect 2 per cent of the population.

She called on Republicans to make clean sweeps in local, county and state elections "and maybe even the presidency next year."

Plans Bared Against LBJ In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of New York Democrats opposed to President Johnson's Vietnam policy and to cuts in funds for the antipoverty program has revealed plans to run anti-Johnson candidates for delegates to the party's national convention next year.

Television executive Gerald Rowe said yesterday that the group aims to convince Johnson that he cannot win re-election and should drop out of the race.

Rowe, vice president for advertising of the National Broadcasting Co. television network, and others who attended the organization meeting at Rowe's home Tuesday night said the group does not seek to substitute New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy for Johnson as the presidential candidate.

State Mansion Fund Reaches $78,000

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —More than $78,000 has been collected in a fund-raising campaign to finance construction of a new governor's residence in Sacramento.

Leland M. Kaiser, the San Francisco financier who is the chairman of the drive, said yesterday the fund had reached $78,462.43. His group wants to raise $550,000 for a new residence on a site along the American River in the Carmichael section of Sacramento County.

Service had been set to start Oct. 29.

Youth Is Quizzed In Connection With Keys Theft

San Rafael Police and the district attorney's office today were questioning an 18-year-old San Rafael youth in connection with the theft of keys to 700 Coca Cola vending machines in the county.

The youth has admitted using the keys to take cash from 15-20 machines in San Rafael as well as Fairfax, San Anselmo and Ross, according to police.

He said he acted as lookout as "two other guys" robbed the plant at 278 Irwin Street, Aug. 28. Plant officials have been waiting to see the outcome of the key theft before deciding to change locks on the machines.

Police said today they had been told they had all stolen keys recovered. Many duplicates had been thrown in San Rafael Canal by the thieves, they said.

Mill Valley Democrats Support Peace Slate

Mill Valley Democratic Club members voted unanimously last night to support California Democratic Council's proposal for an independent slate of delegates to the 1968 national convention.

Aim of the plan is to support a presidential candidate pledged to end the war in Vietnam, but Mrs. Frederick Dunnbier, club secretary, insisted "the vote was not anti-Johnson."

Marin County Democratic Central Committee Tuesday voted for the CDC plan, thus bucking the state Democratic Central Committee's support of the President.

Twenty-five of the Mill Valley club's 40 members attended the meeting in the library, Mrs. Dunnibar reported.

Members voted to send Frederick Dunnbier, club president, and Mrs. Roy Ramberg to a state-wide CDC conference Sept. 30 in Long Beach. Plans for the peace slate will be made at the conference.

Club members also voted for a resolution, to be presented at the conference, opposing U.S. foreign policy "that pursues its goals independently of the U.N."

Retirees' Topic

Clausen, R-First District, at a dinner meeting of Marin County Retired Officers Association 6:30 p.m. Sept. 28 in the Officer's Club at the Presidio of San Francisco. Reservations are Col. Robert C. # Peninsula School Goes Back To Old Bus Rule

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Sequoia Union High School District trustees, faced with Negro violence at their Menlo-Atherton building, voted early today to reinstate more extensive bus transportation for students.

The Menlo - Atherton School, closed since Negroes scuffled with white pupils Monday, is reopening today with some 50 policemen on hand from the Menlo Park and Atherton departments as well as deputies from the San Mateo County sheriff's department.

SAVINGS CLAIMED

Trustees had restricted busing for students to those living two miles or more from their six schools. Previously they had bused all those whose homes were only 1½ miles away. They said the new policy would save $65,000 a year.

Menlo-Atherton School, on the prosperous San Francisco Peninsula, has 2,038 students, of whom an estimated 350 are Negroes, many living some distance from the plant.

ONLY ONE AGAINST

Before voting 4-0 to reinstate the wider-ranging busing, trustees had listened to 42 speakers in the Sequoia High School auditorium in Redwood City and all but one had favored reinstating the 1½-mile limit.

Dissenting was Municipal Court Judge Roy Seagraves who declared the ruling would make it appear the board was capitulating in the face of coercion.

Edward Keating, Democratic Party candidate in the 11th California Congressional District race, told trustees that "If you say no to the motion (to reinstate the earlier limits), Menlo-Atherton will explode and it will be on your heads."

An overflow crowd of 1,200 persons attended the meeting.

Before the vote, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Black Students Union at Menlo-Atherton and the Student Senate all had backed a boycott if wider busing were not reinstated.

James Haugabook, NAACP South San Mateo County branch vice president, had said: "With the clear present evidence of danger to the children of Menlo-Atherton High School, the NAACP strongly urges parents of Menlo - Atherton students to keep them out of school."

BLACK HISTORY

The Student Senate also backed other demands from the Black Students Union, including the restoration of hot lunches and the creation of a black history class to be required for all students.

Some 15 pupils were injured in the scuffling that closed Menlo-Atherton. Atherton Police Chief LeRoy Hubbard had said then: "It was older fellows from outside who stirred this thing up."

Some lizards lay eggs.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Sub-Teen Loses Prized Collection Of Military Brass In Home Fire

DEAR HELEN:

This is an unusual request. I'll bet no one before has ever asked you where to find old military brass for an 11-year-old boy.

He is the son of a neighbor who lost everything in a disastrous fire. His prized possession was a big collection of military brass. He had buttons, insignia, buckles — everything imaginable from all ranks and branches of the Service. The family's other losses can be purchased again, but these can only be collected. It was used brass, the kind ordinarily thrown away on old belts, uniforms, etc.

Do you know how I could go about asking the Military to help replace this heartsick little boy's collection? —ROSE

DEAR ROSE:

Why not contact the Quartermaster at an Army Base nearby? If he's a kindhearted Sergeant — (Note to enlisted men — they do exist!) — he'll tell you how to proceed from there.

Perhaps a note on USO bulletin boards —"I will exchange a box of homemade cookies, for a box of used brass" — might do the trick.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

The article, "What is a Girl Friend?" was priceless. Trouble is, my mother threw away the paper before I could cut it out. You also mentioned another column on "What is a Boy Friend?" Could you please repeat these two features, for those who didn't see or save them? —MINDY LEE

DEAR MINDY:

Because so many of you have asked for reprints of "What is a Boy Friend?" and "What is a Girl Friend?" my syndicate has made mimeographed copies of the two articles. They are available to anyone who sends me a stamped, self-addressed envelope. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I heard that the way you tell if anyone has been smoking marijuana is by the smell of incense. That's because people burn it to hide the smell of pot.

These friends of mine have just started burning incense. They don't act any differently, but do you suppose they're having pot-parties? —SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUS:

Maybe, just maybe, these friends started burning incense because someone gave them an incense burner. Watch it, chum, or your nosiness may make a friendship go to ashes (not pot!) —H.

Here is a savory tidbit to perk up those lazy, warm-weather appetites. Mix together 1½ cups of cottage cheese, 1 teaspoon finely chopped sweet gherkins, a pinch of garlic salt and a dash of pepper. # Shopping in the Village

with Pat Reynolds

Town & Country Village

Fall fashions for the home and the whole family are featured now in Village shops. All of these exciting specialty shops are open Wednesday evenings for your convenience.
See the newest fashion trends at the Wednesday Fashion Luncheons at The Cherish Inn . . . showtime is 12:30 and reservations are suggested . . . phone 388-4212.

Not only does THE HOUR GLASS specialize in intimate apparel that makes one look well put together, but now they've gone one step further and feature the new Warner coordinated lingerie. This collection includes gowns, half slips, chemises, bras, etc. in a pretty print or solid colors . . . all in nylon tricot and all pure feminine flattery.

With a new social season upon us one simply must shape-up that casual summertime look. MUTTS OF MARIN Grooming Department is up to all challenges . . . even the mangiest mutts . . . just be sure to make an appointment . . . 383-2081.

Baubles, bangles and bright shiny Christmas decorations at ALBERTA OF MARIN. All the makings are here for lovely Christmas creations . . . sequins (and those wee tiny pins to attach them), "jewels," bugle beads and a marvelous selection of ribbons.

FU'S ART STUDIO

If you are thinking ahead about Christmas gifts, don't overlook FU'S ART STUDIO. A most thoughtful gift could be The Perfect Painting or Print for one special person . . . a simple line drawing or a magnificent oil. But, be sure it is framed to its best advantage by FU'S. Here artists, using the finest materials, custom design and handmake frames to show off any print or painting.

It's getting to be "moving indoors time" and THE HEARTH SHOP is ready to provide lots of cozy fireside accouterments (and even the fireplaces, if you must start from scratch). Among many other things, this shop carries the most unusal (and decorative) firescreens. Ferinstance their Spanish group that's accented with delicate wrought iron filagree. Log holders, tool sets (and singles) plus much more for the home, found here.

Some awfully pretty dressing table accessories at THE GOLDEN CHERUB. There are mirrors with velvet frames that are sprinkled with flowers . . . matching tissue box too. The mirrors are in two styles . . . a round, easel-back or a tall oval supported by a slender pedestal. New toilet kits here too in splashy floral prints and fitted with useful plastic bottles, jars, etc.

I can't say enough about the perfect table appointments and tranquil atmosphere of KUBLAI KHAN. This attractive restaurant, with its superb Oriental and Continental cuisine, is just the place for a quiet luncheon or dinner. The service is exceptional and, should important business matters be under discussion, discreetly unobtrusive.

Ask for Asta when you enter HAPPY HOUSE and you'll be delighted with the answer. This handsome new line of heavy enamel on steel includes bowls, Fondue pots, kettles and top-of-the-range cookware. The clear, bright colors are red, yellow or blue . . . also a traditional Dutch pattern of blue and white. This new Asta line would make wonderful gifts and you are sure to use it to jazz up your own kitchen, too.

We're approaching "the bubbly season," gang, and VILLAGE LIQUORS is the place to find the very finest imported and domestic champagnes. Many other wines here too and, should you be a bit doubtful about "which to serve with what," just ask Dan and he will be very helpful.

"Villager and Ladybug labels are for sweet young things only?" . . . Nonsense, Mabel! Take for instance their coat collection at the DAISYBUG. I didn't see one style here that wouldn't go equally well on a college campus or a suburban shopping center (in fact, many would be at ease around Union Square). They have some awfully good looking Austrian imports . . . three-quarter length, contrasting piping, silver buttons, several colors. And they've gone and up-dated the classic camel hair coat to follow the new, slender lines . . . but still double breasted with leather buttons. And do see the Villager shoes at the DAISYBUG . . . lots of T-straps in a wide color range plus a loafer that features a "with it" dull gold chain right across where The Penny used to be.

This is the time to start planning your winter entertaining, including holiday parties. Whether planning a huge cocktail bash or an intimate dinner party, you'd do well to consult Louis Reimers, Master Chef, at L'ENTREE. Louis is an expert when it comes to catering and offers all sorts of compliment-getting goodies. This catering service is very complete and will provide extra furniture, china and crystal, if necessary.

WHEN WE SAY HOMEMADE WE MEAN IT!

Don't See How They Do It Dept. The HICK'RY PIT wouldn't think of using a ready mix for anything on their menu. Their homemade buttermilk pancakes and waffle batter are made from scratch . . . so are sauces, soups, etc. All this is not only delicious but very time-consuming. But somehow they manage to maintain their high standards and yet provide excellent service and moderate prices. By the way, if you'd care to sample those pancakes in mid-afternoon . . . The HICK'RY PIT serves breakfast all day long. It's a great place for a snack or a full meal and the informal atmosphere invites families.

This season's Fashion Headliner, The Ensemble, is well represented at SUSAN'S FASHIONS. For instance, this one by California Girl . . . smartly belted coat in a plaid of orange, blue and white . . . the accompanying sleeveless dress has an orange top, dropped waist and matching plaid skirt . . . stunning!

DRAMA REVIEW

Lavish Production Of 'Dumas And Son'

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — The Civic Light Opera Association, in creating "Dumas And Son," may be responsible for another musical which will go on to become a Broadway hit.

With music adapted from Camille Saint-Saens by Robert Wright and George Forrest, a book by Edward Chodorov, and a lavish production, "Dumas And Son" has a lot going for it.

Without being to episodic, the musical details the strained relations between Alexandre Dumas pere and fils, the younger Dumas' short-lived affair with lovely courtesan Marie Duplessis, and her tragic death, which inspired young Dumas to write "The Lady of the Camelias."

After a slightly expository start, the production explodes into life with a carnival scene using Saint-Saens' "Danse Macabre" and sparked by the vibrant baritone of Gilbert Price, playing Dumas' servant Charlemagne. I should like more dancing in this scene, but the Parisian sidewalk cafe scene at Act Two's opening makes up for it.

A great rollicking singing and speaking voice combined with easy dramatic presence make Inia TeWiata's Dumas a giant of a man. Good throughout, he is at his best with Price in the duet "Proud Inside."

As Dumas fils, Frank poretta romps from high comedy to tragedy and lends to each of his songs an unforgetable delight. Constance Towers plays Marie beautifully. Although she appeared to be fighting a cold the night I heard her, she won, and is lovely both in voice and appearance. Her keeper, the rich Baron de la Roche, is portrayed with villainous relish by Gregory Morton.

As a procuress named Cleste (a role created for her) Hermmione Gingold times gags with whiplike precision, swallows her chin, sings an outrageous song about a girl passing a cold around, and tops it all with a tiny raw emotional bit that turns on tears like rain.

Edward Everett Horton slithers about as a slimy columnist with not much to do — but what he does is done with his unfailing finesse.

Fourteen different settings are called for and Oliver Smith's designs are both ingenious and pleasing. Freddy Wittop's costumes are a tasteful riot of color and Robert La Marchina handles the orchestra well and at the right level.

"Dumas And Son" plays nightly except Sundays at 8:30, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees at 2:30 at the Curran Theater.

Music Chest Closes With Betty Allen

Mezzo-soprano Betty Allen will close the annual Marin Music Chest concert season Sunday with a program of classical and contemporary works.

The concert will include arias by Verdi and Purcell, Schubert songs, works by Dvorak and Hundley and American spirituals.

The gates of the Forest Meadows outdoor theater at Dominican College, San Rafael, will be opened at 1:30 p.m. There is no reserved seating for the concert at 3 p.m.

Included in the program will be a work by Virgil Thomson, Before Sleeping from "Praises and Prayers," commissioned by Miss Allen under a Ford Foundation Grant in 1963-64.

During the intermission, music chest scholarship winners John Tomlinson, 15, of San Rafael, a flutist, and three pianists, Joan Franzini, 15, of San Rafael; Robert Borgmann, 16, of Mill Valley; and Hyunok Karl, 18, of Novato will be introduced.

Opera Pupil To Present Program

Opera Pupi, the Puppet Theater for Adults, will present a performance at the Mill Valley Community Church at 8 Olive Street off Throckmorton Avenue at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Although admission is free, Opera Pupi will accept contributions to the Mill Valley Community Church for its charitable work.

For this performance Opera Pupi will use its larger proscenium.

Pianist Salkind To Be Honored

Pianist Milton Salkind of Mill Valley will be awarded the annual Sherman Clay-Steinway Award next week for his "outstanding contribution to the advance of the cultural activity of the community."

Salkind is executive director of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. He and his wife, Peggy, have played piano duets throughout the world, specializing in duo playing on one piano.

The award will be given by John Steinway, vice president of the piano firm, at 4 p.m. Tuesday at the conservatory.

PLEASE CHECK THE NITROGEN IN THE SPARE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Someday soon you may be driving into a service station and asking the attendant to check the nitrogen pressure in your tires instead of the air pressure—and it may cost money.

The Gulf Oil Corp. announced Wednesday it has been experimenting with nitrogen for tire inflation and is test markting the system at its stations in the Houston, Tex., area.

The 20 per cent oxygen content of air, Gulf said, causes tire rubber and fabric to deteriorate. Pure nitrogen, the company said, is expected to prolong tire life and reduce tire failure.

Air is free at gas stations, but nitrogen is a different matter. Gulf says it's charging 50 cents to inflate a new tire and $1.00 to clean and inflate a tire that already has air in it.

Clausen Raps Pentagon On Rifle Rods

Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, today charged the Administration with "attempting to disguise" a shortage of rifle cleaning rods in Vietnam with "gobbledygook."

Clausen said that the Pentagon, in response to his inquiry Aug. 30 about the reported shortage, "three days later replied flatly there was no shortage." Yet, on Sept. 5, three days later, 39,045 rods were shipped by air to Vietnam, Clausen noted.

His inquiry followed a report by a Marine in Vietnam who wrote his father that his company did not have rods. A clean rifle, the Marine said, "is a matter of life and death."

Clausen said he has asked Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "for a clarification, and I am hopeful of hearing from some marine in Vietnam as to whether or not a shortage still exists."

Ford Declared Business Champ

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Today's business executives rate Henry Ford, founder of the Ford Motor Co., as the greatest businessman in American history, a University of Michigan research report said today.

In a six-month survey of 423 business executives, Ford received 97 first-place votes and a total of 2,650 points on a formula of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, and so on.

Runners-up, in order, were steel giant Andrew Carnegie, inventor Thomas A. Edison, oilman John D. Rockefeller, auto magnate Alfred P. Sloan, financier Bernard M. Baruch, telephone inventor Alexander Graham Bell, explosives industry leader E. I. du Pont, auto builder Walter P. Chrysler and tire company founder Harvey S. Firestone.

New Bay Group Seeks Home Rule Revisions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The newly formed Associated Regional Citizens group named its first president yesterday—Leslie E. Carbert, a Pacific Gas & Electric Co. tax economist.

Formed to arouse public interest in Bay Area regional problems, the organization is sponsored by the League of Women Voters and the Bay Area Council.

In accepting the position, Carbert said: "Home rule in the Bay Area must be preserved but we must also provide a new definition of home rule to suit the new demands of a changing society."

ARC is to work with such organizations as the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission, the Association of Bay Area Governments and the new joint legislative Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Here's A Sample From Volume By Two Top English Writers

Two leading English bridge writers, Terence Reese and Albert Dormer, are hard at work on a book on the play of the cards, to be published next year.

See if you can learn anything from their book by sampling one of their hands.

Opening lead — ♣ J

You win the opening club lead in dummy with the ace and lead a low heart to the ace.

MIND READER?

A mind reader would lead dummy's queen of hearts, but the actual play is the better chance.

You continue with the king of clubs, a club ruff in dummy and then a trump to the king.

East returns a low spade, and you wonder whether to play the king or the jack.

Do you decide, or do you just guess?

If you guess wrong, you'd better put your order in for that Reese-Dormer book.

INDIRECT METHOD

Short of peeking, there's no direct method to locate the ace of spades.

The indirect method depends on the ace od diamonds.

You don't know which opponent has the ace of diamonds but you must play on the assumption that East has it; otherwise you will eventually lose two diamond tricks and your contract.

The opening lead indicates that East has the queen of clubs, and he has shown up with the doubleton king of hearts.

If, in addition to these and the ace of diamonds, East also has the ace of spades he would have opened the bidding with his 13 points in high cards and his doubleton.

This means that East cannot have the ace of spades (if the hand is makeable.)

You must therefore try a finesse with the jack of spades to make your contract.

DAILY QUESTION

♦ A 9 5
♣ Q 6 3 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

Don't open a light hand in third position unless you can therby show a strong suit or a favorabel opening lead.

FEELING THE PINCH

Ford Strike Effect Spreads Across U.S.

DETROIT (AP) — Economic side effects of the United Auto Workers strike against Ford Motor Co. are mounting, and the diagnosis is that they'll get much worse.

Already hundreds of jobs in supplier factories and in transportation have vanished, along with 160,000 in Ford plants across the country.

As the strike enters its third week today, industrial spokesmen say that henceforth for the walkout's duration layoffs elsewhere likely will be accelerated.

And there was a prediction yesterday from Ken Bannon, chief of the union's Ford negotiating team, that the strike has at least six more weeks to run.

Bannon, expressing hope he was too pessimistic, estimated it will be another month "before the pieces start falling together" in negotiations of a new contract between Ford and the UAW. Then, he predicted. It will take another two weeks to fit all the pieces together.

Ford was struck at midnight Sept. 6 as three-year contracts ran out there and at Chrysler and General Motors. The UAW chose Ford as its target, hoping to use whatever it wins there as the pattern for subsequent settlements at Chrysler and GM, in that order.

The UAW struck in support of what it calls its "longest and most ambitious list of demands" in history, and it was over economic issues, including a demand for guaranteed annual income, that negotiations begun in July finally foundered.

Since the walkout, Ford and UAW negotiators have not returned to economic issues and are not expected to before next week, at the earliest.

While striking Ford, the union kept its members working without contracts in GM and Chrysler plants, which together employ almost 500,000.

The UAW international executive board gathered in Detroit today to recommend a strike-supporting increase in union dues paid by UAW members still working. A special convention of the union is set for Oct. 8 in Detroit to act on the recommendation.

Meanwhile workers in the 25-state Ford empire began collecting strike benefits ranging from $20 to $30 weekly, depending on family size, compared with what the company says was an average weekly gross paycheck of $155.83 last year.

Bannon, who is the UAW's Ford department director, was among those shifting to a strike benefit income status. Normally he makes $19,250 a year, but as a family man he draws the top strike benefit: $30 a week.

Industrialists say the pinch of the strike would have been greater already, but while ordering shipments held up, Ford has not yet notified suppliers to hold up on manufacture of components for 1968 models, which go on display in dealer showrooms tomorrow.

Vendors calling on Ford have dwindled, and some express amazement that Ford has not yet ordered a stop on previously placed orders.

FHA Approval Is Still Awaited In Marincello Land

The Frounge Corp. is awaiting Federal Housing Agency approval of a guarantee for a $20-25 million Marincello land purchase and development loan, board chairman Thomas Frounge has announced.

The guarantee is asked under a year-old law affording FHA approval for land redevelopment and creation of new cities.

Frounge said the funds would cover and purchase agreements with Gulf Oil and development for up to 10 years. Development of the 2,138-acre Marincello community is expected to take up to 20 years.

Jack Tuggle, San Francisco insuring officer for the FHA, could not estimate when the guarantee would be approved.

At Marincello, Frounge, a construction-development firm with headquarters in New York and Connecticut, is completing first construction stages of the main Marincello Boulevard, while engineering for the first homes is also underway.

Back To School Set For Larkspur Parents

The Larkspur School District's four schools will have "back to school nights" next week for parents to meet teachers and learn about programs planned for the year.

Programs are planned for all students at Henry C. Hall and San Clemente schools Monday, for all students at Larkspur-Corte Madera School and for kindergarten through fourth grade students at Neil Cummins School Tuesday, and for fifth through eighth grade students at Neil Cummins School Wednesday, all at 7:30 p.m.

Agency Heads Attend Session

Three law enforcement agency heads in Marin County yesterday attended a nine Bay Area counties meeting of the Northern California Peace Officers Assn. in San Francisco to discuss setting up a police-community relations program.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, named to an 11-man committee to outline the purpose for establishing a police-community bureau throughout the Northern California district, said the committeewill next meet at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 18 in Richmond.

The San Francisco meeting, attended also by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa and Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich, was sponsored by San Francisco Police Department.

Window Smashed

Carol Ann Robles, an employee at Reed School District office, reported to Tiburon sheriff's deputies that someone broke her car's windshield by throwing a rock through it, between 1 and 5 p.m., while it was in the parking lot by the office.

Planners Discuss Master Plan Ideas

Belvedere Planning Commission last night discussed the possibility of having the city draw up a master plan.

Commissioners decided to list specific points they felt should be included in such a plan, before making any recommendation to the city council, according to secretary William H. Rafter.

Human Rights Director Job May Be Split

The Human Rights Commission, which has had two directors during its brief existence, has decided that it isn't getting through to the Negroes in Marin City and that a special type of man is needed to do the job.

He must have a genuine rapport with the approximately 1,300 Marin City Negroes who are the principal concern of the commission and he must be able to work with the white community at large in order to get something done for the Negroes.

Members of the commission, in an informal meeting yesterday with County Administrator Alan Bruce, recognized that it may be impossible to find a person who could fill both roles. They talked of finding a new executive director, and a second person, a "leg man" who would have the confidence of people in Marin City.

'DOWN FROM HEAVEN'

"A person who could do both jobs would have to come down from heaven," commented Mrs. Bela Aaron, vice chairman of the commission.

Meantime, the commission members and Bruce tentatively decided to re-write the specifications for the executive director's job — writing out some of the professional social welfare qualifications, and writing in some of the special qualifications which would be needed for the difficult job.

Gene T. Orro, the commission's most recent director, held the job for only seven weeks, and resigned. His predecessor, Robert B. Brauer, was director for nine months.

Father John O'Connor, Catholic family services director in Marin County, said he agreed with the opinion of Gregory Baines, a Negro guidance teacher from Sausalito, that a key staffer would have to come from Marin City, and have the confidence of the young men

It was not finally decided whether this person would be the "leg man" or the director himself. Nothing was officially decided, because only four of the eight commission members showed up for the meeting with Bruce and it was not a quorum.

However, Baines, Father O'Connor, commission member Dick Harding and County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott were named to a committee to draw up new qualifications for the director's job, to decide on a salary for the job, and on the method of recruiting the new director.

Baines commented, "There are only 1,300 people in the black community in Marin County. If they can't get the job done here, then where can they get it done?"

Commission member Harding said, "We're not communicating with them. There isn't any doubt of it."

Debris from World War II still litters the Pacific islands of Micronesia in large quantities.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1967 — 21

BACK STAGE—Holding some of the flowers sent her by the faculty and studen body of Tamalpais High School from which she graduated, Mill Valley soprano Jane Marsh receives congratulations following her San Francisco Opera debut last night from Mme. Bella Resek and Robert Greenwood. Director of the school chorus in which Jane sang, Greenwood was the first to suggest she take vocal lessons and Mme. Resek was her first vocal teacher in Mill Valley. For another picture, see the Marin Women's section.

AMERICAN OPERA DEBUT

Jane Marsh Scores Triumph As Pamina In 'Magic Flute'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

No more appropriate vehicle than Mozart's fairy tale opera "The Magic Flute" could have been chosen for the 25-year-old singer, whose sudden rise to fame began just last year with her triumph in the international Tchaikovsky competitions in Moscow.

GREATLY MATURED

Jane's voice, poise and acting ability have matured greatly since we last heard her. While the role of the young Princess Pamina, requiring more lyrical than dramatic expression, was an excellent one for her at the present stage of her vocal development, there was evidence even in this lighter role of promise of great future power and depth in her voice.

Jane was very fortunate in making her debut in this new production of "The Magic Flute" in English. It was superb.

A large part of the credit goes to the breath-taking beauty and imagination of the sets, especially the enchanted forest, the realm of the Queen of the Night, the scene of the trials by fire and water and the sunburst finale. All were enhanced by subtle lighting, and costumes were of the same originality and opulence as the sets.

EXCELLENT CAST

Equally responsible for the superlative level of the production was a cast of outstanding singers.

Most impressive were two Welshmen — tenor Stuart Burrows, making his American debut in the leading role of the Egyptian Prince Tamino with a big voice of rich quality, and the well-known baritone Geraint Evans. No more perfect realization of the comic birdcatcher Papageno than Evans could be imagined, and he was the only one whose diction was unfailingly understood.

Soprano Jeanette Scovottie as the Queen of Night sang the famous coloratura role, especially the revenge aria with its two horrendous high F's with a flute-like quality and agility, but she lacked the power to express fully the rage and evil of the character.

MORE AMUSING

Robert Glover was a more amusing than terrifying villain as Monostatos, and the splendid bass of Thomas O'Leary gave full stature to the noble Sarastro.

Soprano Sylvia Davis, who has sung a number of times in Marin concerts, was a delightful Papagena, and a unique touch was the use of three captivating little boys instead of the usual sopranos as the three genii.

Vocies of the three ladies in waiting to the Queen of the Night — Sheila Marks, Carol Kirkpatrick and Donna Petersen made a beautifully blended trio.

CHOIR SHINES

Horst Stein conducted the orchestra expertly, and there was some good choral singing in the temple scenes.

The opera, which is really a "singspiel" or "sing-play" with much spoken dialogue, is so full of enchanting scenes, music and animals that it would be a perfect one for introducing children to the magic of opera.

Police Called To Make Spouse Vacate Curb

Police were last night called to the San Rafael home of Bonnie Louise Ghilotti who, a week ago, filed suit for divorce against husband Henry James Ghilotti, 43, construction contractor.

She said her husband was sitting on the curb in front of the house in what she maintained was a violation of a Marin County Superior Court restraining order.

When officers arrived at 7:39 p.m., they asked Ghilotti to accompany them to the downtown headquarters. The contractor called his attorney from the office and later left the area.

Ghilotti, of the contracting firm of Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc., Corte Madera, has been accused by his wife of frequently beating and threatening her. They were married in San Rafael in 1949.

Redwood High School Now In Decade Year

By SUE MENDELSOHN
Redwood High School

The decade year for Redwood High School began Sept. 11, as 2,317 students streamed through the doors of Redwood for its 10th year of classes.

When Redwood opened in 1958, only 1,024 students were enrolled in the school, consisting of only two wings, the present main building and the metal and wood shops. The gym, which was not yet approved remained closed to the students until late in November. Four years later, the library and final two wings were added, creating the Senior Quad.

The administration has made an effort to liberalize the previous policies concerning students for more responsibility, by making several changes in the instructional and activity programs. Principal Donald Kreps recently expressed his desire for "more flexibility and more freedom to move about."

Since the bond issue providing for the development of Redwood for a student body of 3,000, failed two years ago, the present plans for Redwood will be to round out the facilities which Redwood already has. These are the recent addition of the pool, the student center, and the tennis courts.

Kreps believes the trend in education at Redwood is toward a more creative program and will "put more responsibility into the laps of the students." More resource teachers in the library, the optical seventh period which allows for teachers help, student body rallies and meetings, and use of the chemistry labs, and reduction in "checking devices" all are part of this trend, and will in turn cause the students and teachers to "trust one another more."

Along with these are: no tardy bells, and no slow clocks which were used to ensure that the students would not be late to school. "I would like to create and open climate for students and teachers to grow and develop," Kreps explained.

He added that the strength of Redwood lies in its breaking away from the factory mold and its ability to capitalize on individual differences.

Introductions Set For Special Staff

Staff members of county programs for mentally retarded children will be introduced at a meeting Monday of members of Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

Virgil S. Hollis, Marin superintendent of schools, will introduce the the staff at the meeting at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center.

It Was 'Lovely' At Point Reyes

Smog-free Point Reyes was the place to have been yesterday to avoid sweltering weather.

While the rest of Marin reported temperatures in the 90s and smog-gray skies, it was "beautiful, very exceptional, really lovely" at Point Reyes Lighthouse at the tip of the oceanside peninsula.

The description came from Coast Guard Seaman 1/c David Mintz, who said that fog covered Point Reyes National Seashore today.

The Weather Bureau predicts a 30 per cent chance of rain tonight and 10 per cent chance tomorrow. High temperature tomorrow is expected to be about 77 degrees.

The official smog reading in San Rafael yesterday was .14, only .01 below what the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District terms the "eye irritation level."

A less official reading came from southern Marin, where an observer said it "it was smoggier than hell down this way yesterday."

San Rafael's count of the number of occidents per million in the air, translated as smog, compared to a .24 reading in San Francisco, equaling the highest reading for the year set on May 9. Oakland reading was .23; San Leandro, .32; Richmond, .27; San Jose, .21; Redwood City, .29.

High temperatures in Marin yesterday were Woodacre, 96; Marinwood, 97; Novato, 94; Tiburon, 93; San Anselmo, 99; Larkspur, 88; Mill Valley, 92; Sausalito, 96; Tamalpais Valley, 91; Bolinas, 86.

Burglary Case Now Petty Theft

Henry Earl Crutchfield, 18, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court today on an amended complaint alleging petty theft May 30 from Tamalpais High School.

He originally was charged with burglary of the school. Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. scheduled plea entry on the new and lesser charge for 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Crutchfield, of 135 Drake Avenue, and Donald Ray Turner, 18, of 623 Drake Avenue, were accused of the burglary in which a movie projector was taken. Case of Turner was certified to Juvenile Court June 28.

STATE LIFTS TEMPORARY BURNING BAN

A ban on all controlled burning within Marin, set yesterday when temperatures zoomed high and the humidity dropped, was lifted today by the State Division of Forestry.

Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom reported that on recommendation of the forestry division he was lifting the ban which precluded incinerator fires, agricultural buring or use of backyard barbecues in Marin cities and unincorporated areas.

The forestry division also lifted buring bans placed yesterday on Sonoma, Napa, Solano, Lake, Yolo and Colusa counties, as temperatures dropped and fog hit the coast.

Trial Is Continued In Delinquency Case

Trial of three members of Moby Grape rock 'n roll combo, charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors, was continued yesterday in Marin Municipal Court from today to Nov. 16.

Accused are Jerry A. Miller, 24, Peter Lewis, 22, and Alex Spence, 22. They allegedly were with three 17-year-old San Mateo County girls in a car above Marin City June 7. Miller also is accused of having the car illegally on a fire trail.

MISSION BIRTHDAY PLANS COMPLETED

150th Anniversary Events Will Include 'Living Rosary,' Fiesta Parade, Regatta

Complete plans for San Rafael's gala five-day celebration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of Mission San Rafael Arcangel Oct. 18-22 were announced today by Ray Shone, chairman of the civic committee.

The five-day observance will begin Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. with a re-enactment of the planting of the Cross by clergy of St. Raphael's Church, installation of the palque by grand officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and a program of Spanish songs and fiesta dances arranged by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce.

On the following day at 1:30 p.m. at Albert Field, 3,000 parochial students will participate in a "living Rosary" followed by a sermon by a Franciscan friar. The closing ceremony will be benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The 150th jubilee civic luncheon, sponsored by San Rafael service clubs, will take place at noon, Oct. 20, at Dominic's Restaurant. Speaker will Dr. Marshall Dill, professor of history at Dominican College.

A concelebrated jubilee Mass offered by Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken, and 21 pastors of the California missions, is set for 6:30 p.m. in St. Raphael's Church. Speaker will be Most Rev. Timothy Manning, JCD, auxiliary bishop of Los Angeles.

The anniversary regatta, between Richmond Bridge and the San Rafael Canal, will be held Oct. 21 from 1 to 5 p.m., with awards being made at the close of the regatta. A fireworks display along the bay will begin at 9 p.m.

The closing day of the celebration will be Sunday, Oct. 22, when the Fiesta parade will be held, beginning at 11:30 a.m. at Fourth and E streets and ending at San Rafael High School. San Rafael Chief of Police Charles Chiesa will be parade leader.

Final event will be a deep pit beef barbecue, in the manner of the early Spanish Dons, at St. Peter Chanel Seminary on Grand Avenue at 2 p.m.

MUCH MONEY AT STAKE

Diet Sweetner's Dangers Argued

WASHINGTON (SS) — In 1950, the Food and Drug Administration put its seal of approval on Abbott Laboratory's request to bottle and sell a chemical called sodium cyclamate. That year, Sucaryl became the first major competitor of saccharin, which diabetics and dieters had been using instead of sugar for half a century.

Although cyclamate is a less potent artificial sweetner than saccharin — cyclamate is only 30 times as sweet as sugar compared to 300 for saccharin — cyclamate sweetens without leaving the bitter taste that characterizes saccharin.

In very short order, cyclamate usage boomed and by 1961 consumers were spending about $25 million a year to sweeten their coffee with drops or tables of sodium cyclamate.

About the same time bulk usage of cyclamates took an upward turn a more and more diet foods — especially diet soft drinks — swamped the market. Since then, that upward turn has become a sharp ascent with artificially sweetened pop now taking 12 per cent instead of 1.5 per cent of of the soft drink market.

Now, companies manufacturing soft drinks with relatively inexpensive cyclamates instead of sugar no longer advertise their products as dietetic; they call them "now" drinks and try to sell them to the fat and thin alike.

As a result, the amount of sweet chemicals an average individual consumes has gone up and the amount of money the sugar industry makes has gone down.

If the expanding use of artificial sweeteners continues, the sugar industry stands to lose $1 billion by its own estimate. This has prompted $500,000 in the last two years to support research into the safety of sodium cyclamate. Its position is that while a few drops of liquid sweetener in coffee or cereal may be perfectly safe, consumption of large quantities constitutes a "significant threat to health."

Scientists at the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation, who have been conducting extensive animal studies under Sugar Research Foundation support, agree. In 1955, they point out, the National Academy of Sciences reviewed the available scientific data on cyclamates and concluded that a maximum of five grams a day would have no effect — except perfaps a slight laxative action — on most individuals.

Five grams is enough to sweeten about 15 small bottles of pop.

Dr. Paul O. Nees and Philip H. Derse of the Wisconsin group report that rats consuming only one per cent of sodium cyclamate in a diet of 400 grams of dry food show marked growth reduction. Some cases of infertility in cyclamate-eating rats have also been noted, they say. In October they expect to have further results of animal studies showing that cyclamates are a threat to the public, especially children and pregnant women.

In any area as heavily involved with economics and hedged with special interests, conflicting testimony is inevitable.

In the area of artificial sweeteners, this is doubly confounding, because the definitive, independent research has not yet been done.

Scientists at Abbott in North Chicago say no other researchers they know of have been able to duplicate the Wisconsin results. The Wisconsin group also points to studies reported about six months ago by Japanese scientists showing teratogenic effects in rats fed cyclamates during the first two weeks of preganancy. Abbott scientists and pharmacologists at FDA say those studies have not been duplicated either.

So far, FDA officials say they have seen no evidence to warrant a change in current regulations permitting manufacturers to substitute cyclamates for sugar. Labeling requirements, however, demand that any such products be clearly identified as artificially sweetened.

Pressured by the sugar industry and prodded by congressmen prodded by the sugar industry, FDA issued a $46,000 contract in January to help support Dr. Frederick Coulston of the Institute of Experimental Pathology and Toxicology, Albany Medical College, in the conduct of animal and human tests of cyclamates.

Dr. Coulston, insisting on avoiding even the appearance of wearing any interest's brand, is also getting financial support from both Abbott Laboratories and the Sugar Research Foundation.

He and his colleagues are testing cyclamates in rats, monkeys and since July, in 32 prison volunteers for possible effects on enzyme systems, liver tissue and reproduction functions, including spermatogenesis.

Although a number of the scientific investigations underway seem to show inclusive results, one new development has turned up recently in the cyclamate question.

Originally, Abbott scientists contended that cyclamates posed no threat because they are not metabolized by the body — "Cyclamate is simply excreted as cyclamate," they said.

Then, Japanese researchers reported that some individuals excrete a toxic compound called cyclohexylamine, indicating that the body does break cyclamate down into a metabolite.

Cyclohexylamine is found in the urine of about 12 per cent of persons consuming cyclamates, even at small one or two gram doses, according to Dr. Coulston. When inhaled or applied to the skin, cyclohexylamine, which is used in manufacturing processes and in insecticides, cause dermatitis and may even lead to convulsions. What effect it has when it appears in the body as a breakdown product of cyclamate, however, is not known.

Abbott scientists point out that in 17 years of use, there have been no reported cases of poisoning or death in any individual who might have been cyclohexylamine excreters.

Because his studies are not yet completed, Dr. Coulston says he can neither exonerate nor condemn cyclamates. However, he urges caution in their use.

While all this is going on in the United States. the British government this month lifted its ban aginst the use of cyclamates in that country. As of Aug. 1, sodium cyclamates in liquid or tablet form were legalized. As of Dec. 1, foods containing artificial sweeteners will be legal.

After reviewing all of the scientific data on the subject, including the finding that some persons do metabolize cyclamate and excrete cyclohexylamine, the British concluded that the evidence was insufficient to warrant a prohibition of artificial sweeteners.

Differing Predictions On Electric Car Use

WASHINGTON (SS) — While some engineers now forecast there will be 20 million electric cars in use between 1975 and 1985 because of growing air pollution problems, others believe the role and future of the vehicles "is still a matter of speculation."

Three engineers at the Detroit Edison Co. conclude that electric-powered car use will shortly begin to increase substantially, with probably four million being produced annually by 1985. Suitable markets, they believe, will be found as second family cars, for urban-suburban use, company-owned fleet cars, taxicabs, industrial trucks, delivery vans and school and city buses.

The differing conclusion came from C. J. Heltemes Jr. of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and C. A. Vansant of Operations Research, Inc., Silver Springs, Md.

"If electric cars are to survive on the basis of their own merits, independent of any factor arising from the air polution problem, they must become economically and — as much as possible, fundamentally — competitive with gasoline powered cars. This status has not been achieved to date," they report.

Heltemes and Vansant said the marketing effort, traffic control implications, service provisions and many other factors will ultimately determine the development of electromotive concepts. "These are factors which cannot now be projected into the future and this is why the role and future of such cars is still a matter of speculation."

WHO'S THE RUDEST?

Scientists Take Roles Of Confused Tourists

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — When a Frenchman asks a Frenchman for directions, he gets the right answer. But a Greek won't give his fellow-Greeks the time of day.

At least that is the implication of a psychological experiment in three cities — Paris, Athens and Boston.

Paris has a reputation for unfriendliness to foreigners. Compared to the way Parisians treat each other, the stereotype has some truth, according to Dr. Roy E. Feldman of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Feldman and a colleague, both obviously foreign visitors in Paris, spent days standing at a busy intersection, asking directions of every fourth man and recording the answer with a concealed tape recorder. Some 45 per cent of the Parisians either refused to help, or gave the couple a bum steer.

But when a French couple went out to do the same experiment, they were turned down only 22 per cent of the time and never once misdirected.

Language seemed to be the key, said Dr. Feldman. When he asked in French, he was given more help.

But in Boston, language made no difference, and Bostonians topped Parisians on help with street directions.

That, however, was only part of the experiment. Dr. Feldman and associates next ran an experiment demanding a higher level of cooperation from the natives. Here strangers were stopped and asked to mail a letter (some of the letters were unstamped), on the pretext that the sender had to meet someone and couldn't move from his spot. The scores between Boston and Paris were strongly reversed.

Language aside, said Dr. Feldman, the American in Paris gets better treatment than the Frenchman in Boston.

But the most unexpected results came from Athens, said Dr. Feldman. Athenians misdirected their compatriots more often than they did foreign visitors, he said. And when it came to letter mailing, 93 per cent of the Greeks refused to help fellow-citizens. Only half the Athenians turned down the foreigners.

Dr. Feldman said he could not say which city — Paris or Athens — was more helpful to foreign guests, but of all the teams, the Greek couple in Athens got the least help.

Dr. Feldman believes the political situation in Greece may have helped breed suspicion between the residents.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Nutrition Neurotics Convinced Only Natural Food Is Healthy

VAN DELLEN

Nutrition neurotics are people who are convinced that superior health is obtained only by eating natural foods. They believe that the diet must contain bone meal, yeast, alfalfa, exotic seeds, or certain vitiamins.

Many believe that only organically grown edibles are of value and that food supplements, man-made vitamins, and modern processing not only are harmful but responsible for degenerative diseases.

NO ONE FOOD is essential to health but some 60 nutrients are. These are obtained by eating a variety of foods obtained at the local supermarket.

In contrast, the food faddist falls prey to the latest dietary craze even though other "fads" have failed. Promoters make millions by pushing exotic edibles with wild promises of glowing health.

It is easy to sell half-truths because the science of nutrition does not claim to know all the answers.

Many food faddists create or contribute to their dietary deficiencies when they abandon their normal diet and turn to so-called health foods. Health organizations, our government, and the food industry do their best to distinguish fact from fancy.

HOW MANY reducing diets can you remember? The high-fat diet was touted as curbing the appetite.

One ill-conceived weight reduction plan attached the name of Mayo. The Air Force diet was low in carbohydrates, high in proteins, and allowed dry martinis.

We also recall the safflower oil saga.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

WHITE PATCHES

E. B. writes: I have had leukoderma for most of my life and am terribly embarrassed at times because of it. What can you tell me pertaining to treatment and cure?

REPLY

These white patches usually occur on the face, neck, arms, and backs of the hands. The psoralen drugs are used to help develop pigment but these substances are potent and must be prescribed by a physician. Safer substances include Covermark or walnut stain.

AVOIDING COLITIS

REPLY

Yes, provided you mean spastic colitis, a disorder which is associated with emotional upheavals, overwork, or consuming too much roughage in the diet. "Avoided" is a better word than "cured," for the spasms may return when the individual fails to mend his ways.

SPARE TIRE

B. J. writes: I have a flabby roll of flesh around my middle that I can't eliminate by exercise. Have you any recommendations?

REPLY

If exercise and diet do not help, tuck the roll away in a girdle. This is what most women do.

DANGEROUS AGE

Mrs. S. writes: What does a doctor mean when he says 40 to 50 is the dangerous age?

REPLY

Blame the poets and not the medical profession for this statement about a transitional age.

STAGGERS AT NIGHT

F. B. writes: Can you tell me why I stagger while walking at night but not during the day?

REPLY

You may have a neurological disorder in the lower extremities, with loss of position sense. Examination is in order.

LIVER INFECTION

A. B. C. writes: I have been bedridden with subacute hepatitis for three months. Will you write something about this disease as my friends and neighbors have a distorted idea about the disorder?

REPLY

This viral infection of the liver varies in severity. It lasts for a few weeks (acute) to several months (subacute or chronic). Time and rest are the best remedies.

RHEUMATOID

H. L. writes: Can an old person develop rheumatoid arthritis?

REPLY

Yes, but the disease is more common in younger individuals. It has been said that 85 per cent of all cases involve individuals between the ages of 25 and 50.

EATS CANDY

Mrs. M. writes: I eat candy all day long and this continues until I get into bed. Even though I try to stop, I just can't. Do you have any suggestions?

REPLY

None, provided you are not overweight and your teeth can take it. If you don't buy the candy, you can't eat it.

TV REVIEW

'Fugitive' Formula Is Still Around

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Although ABC-TV's "The Fugitive" wound up its successful run last month, the basic format has left a sort of legacy to network television, with other series trying to cash in on the formula too.

NBC-TV, of course, has "Run For Your Life," in which Ben Gazzara plays a young lawyer who has a terminal illness that will last as long as the high ratings do. In the show, he is a man who constantly runs—toward life—as he lives to the hilt the way any fellow with a similar affliction and good writers would.

Then there is ABC-TV's "The Invaders," in which a man who has found out that extraterrestrial beings in human form have arrived—and are out to do us in—goes around trying to convince everyone else they are here. Again it is the story of the man on the run a story that he can't prove.

This new season, NBC-TV has introduced "Maya," a youngsters' adventure series in which a teen'age boy teams up with an elephant in his attempt to find his father, a hunter who has been reported killed in India.

And over at ABC-TV, in another new series, we have "The Guns of Will Sonnett," in which the father (Walter Brennan) and son of a legendary gunfighter roam the Old West trying to find out the truth about him.

What all of this is, of course, is a refined modern version of the old Saturday afternoon movie serial—those open-end cliffhangers between feature films.

New York Offers Teachers Raises

NEW YORK (UPI)—The city's 50,000 striking teachers vote Sunday on a new contract that would officially end a two week work stoppage, longest in the history of the nation's largest public school system.

The tentative agreement was reached yesterday afternoon after almost 24 hours of continuous negotiation. Terms of the pact were not revealed, but it was learned the teachers would receive a $135.4 million pay package over the next 26 months. The agreement was based on a recommendation from Mayor John V. Lindsay, who sat through the entire final negotiations at his Gracie Mansion residence.

The Board of Education announced schools would be closed today. No decision was made about tomorrow. The schools have been open since the first day of the fall term, Sept. 11, despite teacher and pupil absences which have reduced the giant education system to chaos.

The president of the United Federation of Teachers and two other officers were to appear in State Supreme Court at noon today to answer contempt charges sought by the city for the union's failure to obey an injunction issued Sept. 13 ordering teachers back to classrooms.

Albert Shanker, union president; George Altomare, vice president; and David Wittes, treasurer, faced 30 day jail terms and fines of $250 for disobeying the injunction, which was based on a new state law forbidding strikes by public employes. In addition, the UFT can be assessed $10,000 a day for the work stoppage.

State College Facilities Demand Bargaining Status

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A teacher strike will be called at the 19 state colleges unless faculty members are permitted to vote on collective bargaining, a union official has told state college trustees.

The threat was made in a lively exchange with trustees yesterday by Bud Hutchinson, executive secretary of the College Council of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO.

Several trustees contended state law prohibits strikes by public employes, including state college professors. Hutchinson said state law is "unclear on this point."

He added: "When a problem becomes intolerable" and "the solution might require doing something that falls across the law, then I say let's do it and get on with the job of building a great state college system."

"In a Democratic society my first allegiance is to the law," replied trustee James F. Thacher.

Retorted Hutchinson: "My first allegiance is to education."

John Sperling, associate professor of humanities at San Jose State College, referred to recent teacher strikes in Detroit and New York City.

"Collective bargaining by teachers and boards is no longer coming," he said. "It is here."

Trustee Louis H. Heilbron presented a "position paper" in which he argued the trustees cannot bargain with the faculty because the governor and the legislature — not the trustees— control the state's purse strings.

Hutchinson replied that although trustees cannot make financial commitments, it would "immeasurably strengthen their hand" if the governor and legislature knew they were being presented with "an agreement hammered out between the trustees and a majority of the faculty"—and that to turn down the agreement "might lead to a disruption of services."

Psychiatrists To Examine Slaying Suspect

Results of a psychiatric examination of a 23-year-old Sausalito man charged with killing a San Francisco hippie will be presented Sept. 29 at 9:30 a.m. in San Francisco Superior Court, Department 23.

Eric Frank Dahlstrom of 70 Monte Mar Drive pleaded innocent by reason of insanity Sept. 14 before Judge Francis McCarthy. Dahlstrom is charged with killing John Carter, 25, in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury district Aug. 1 and cutting off the victim's right arm.

He was arrested several days later near Sebastopol, driving a car which contained Carter's arm. Officers quoted Dahlstrom as saying Carter had sold him bad LSD.

Reagan To Give Talk In Oregon

PORTLAND (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan will address a state GOP fund-raising dinner here Nov. 10, Oregon Republican Chairman Irving Enna said Tuesday.

Reagan will speak at Memorial Coliseum at the $50-per-plate dinner.

He will take part next day in a Veterans Day Parade at Albany and also attend the Oregon State-Southern California football game at Corvallis.

Orr Arraigned; To Enter Plea

Fairfax Police Chief James R. Orr was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday through his attorney, Roger P. Garety, on a misdemeanor complaint of disturbing the peace.

Plea entry for Orr, who was not present, was scheduled for this afternoon.

Orr, 39, is accused of disturbing the peace of Richard D. Conn, 27, dance hall operator of San Anselmo. Conn, who made a citizen's arrest of Orr and also signed the formal complaint, charged that Orr conducted himself in an offensive manner and used profane language Saturday when he arrived at Irwin Street Warehouse in San Rafael to pick up his 13-year-old daughter.

New Bar Pilot Boat To Be Called 'Drake'

University's Economy Accomplishments Told

BERKELEY (AP)— University of California Vice President Charles J. Hitch has told chancellors of the nine campuses to cut down spending by increasing productivity and efficiency.

He asked for "quarterly reports on economies achieved" and, as a guide for the chancellors, offered "an illustrative list of recent economies" in the university system, these include:

At Berkeley: annual savings of $120,000 through a new contract with Pacific Gas and Electric Co., $12,000 through a central cashier office for residence halls and $4,800 through elimination of late evening telephone service.

At Los Angeles: annual savings of $124,000 by purchasing rather than renting automatic parking equipment, $134,000 through reorganization of administrative procedures and $124,000 when residence hall personnel obtained summer vacation telephone rates, started doing their own upholstery work, began a convenience food system and closed two kitchens on weekends.

At Davis: annual savings of $175,000 through an electrical service contract with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation and elimination of a planned $3 million residence hall planned for completion in 1968-69.

At Riverside: savings of $122,000 during the last two years by purchase of war surplus equipment for agricultural operations and savings of $50,000 by cutbacks in workload and services at the residence halls and for food service.

WINDY DUEL — The TraveLodge, checked by a grimacing crew, bites into a near-gale recently on Sydney Harbor in Australia. The boat is now at a Belvedere Yacht Club, and her former jib hand, Robert Hagley (on trapeze, center), hopes to promote U.S. interest in skiff racing.

Grid Game Canceled At San Jose State

SAN JOSE (AP) — San Jose State College has canceled its football season opener here Saturday with the University of Texas El Paso because of the "possibility of violence" growing out of charges of racial discrimination on the campus.

President Robert D. Clark made the announcement late last night after meeting with other administrators. Earlier in the day he had admitted that public hearings on the charges had brought out that discrimination does exist, but said such practices "arise not from prejudiced intent on the part of the coaches, but from the campus community itself."

NECESSARY

In his announcement President Clark said, "I consider the action necessary to protect our students, their parents and friends from the possibility of violence in Spartan Stadium.

"I wish to emphasize that this danger is not from San Jose State College students. Our own students and faculty have been seeking a resolution of differences through a week long series of open hearings. The danger comes from the possible involvement of off-campus persons and groups who by Saturday night may be unaware of our progress toward a solution," he said.

He named no specific off-campus person or group who might seek to cause trouble.

In El Paso, Texas, U. Athletic Director George McCarthy said he had offered to have the game played at El Paso "to help them out of a situation." But he added: "It's the prerogative of San Jose State."

NO RESCHEDULING

Athletic Director Robert Bronzan said late last night that there was no possibility of rescheduling the Saturday game for El Paso.

He said formal permission to cancel the game would be asked of the University of Texas at El Paso today.

Bronzan denied his department discriminated against its Negro athletes.

Bronzan, in a telephone interview with a radio station, also declared the problem "is not localized" and predicted that "other institutions of higher education in California will be receiving similar appeals in the very near future."

One Quarterback Better Than Two In Pro Grid

CHICAGO — There's an old adage in pro football. Teams fly better on one wing. One top quarterback is better than two alternating at the job.

Take, for example, that NFL season opener in which the Detroit Lions put a terrific first half rush on Bart Starr, forcing four interceptions.

Vince Lombardi didn't yank his ace quarterback. Lombardi didn't blame Starr as much as a breakdown in Packer protection of the great quarterback. He stayed with Starr and Starr brought in a 17-17 tie for the champs in the second half.

However, there is only one Bart Starr. So other teams must experiment. George Halas still hasn't decided on his No. 1 Bear quarterback. He pulled Larry Rakestraw after the first half last Sunday in favor of the veteran Rudy Bukich. He gave Rakestraw a mild vote of confidence by letting him return for the final quarter.

Bear Fans Would Love Mr. Brodie

Jack Concannon was just an observer in the Bear-Steeler season opener. Concannon may get a chance this Sunday against the Packers.

Here in Chicago, Bear fans will tell you they would love to have John Brodie of the 49ers. They are aware of Brodie's interception record but attribute this to a lack of 49er protection for Brodie rather than hurried off-target throws by Brodie.

But the 49ers are not about to trade Brodie even though a substantial segment of Kezar Stadium fans dislike his hot and cold performances. Brodie definitely is still the smoothest of 49er quarterbacks and can move the team as he proved in the season opener against the Vikings.

Vike Crowd Jeered VanderKelen

Much in the same fashion Brodie is the target of derisive cheers in Kezar Stadium, Ron VanderKelen got it good from Metropolitan Stadium Viking fans last Sunday during the first half when he tossed a couple of interceptions. The 49er defense put quite a first half rush on the Viking quarterback.

VanderKelen received smarter protection in the second half and he demonstrated that he was capable of completing pressure passes. In fact, he came very close to overcoming a 27-0 deficit.

VanderKelen was the first to admit that he was "not at ease" as the No. 1 Viking quarterback. But he left no doubt that he intended to stay in the No. 1 job.

Gathered Splinters Four Years

"I waited a long time for it — four years," said VanderKelen who sat on the bench four seasons while Fran Tarkenton directed the field action.

VanderKelen is well aware of the one-quarterback, one-wing theory to which virtually all pro football coaches subscribe, including Bud Grant, making his NFL coaching debut with the Vikings after 10 years in Canadian football.

Marin Swimmer Has Fine Day

Anne Engel of the Marin Swim Club went right down the line at the Millbrae Otters Class "A" Age Group Swim Meet in San Bruno last week.

Anne, competing in the girls 13-14 division, took a first, two seconds, a fourth and a fifth in the two-day meet.

Cory Vidak added a first in the girls 13-14 and Tacy Dunham picked up a fourth and a second in the girls 15-17 for Marin's multiple place winners.

The Marin Swim Club and the Novato Aquanauts will co-sponsor a Class "B" meet at Novato High School Saturday and Sunday. Over 600 swimmers are expected to enter the meet.

Giants Bat Even .500 On Road

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants rested today in preparation for the last 10 games of the season—all to be played at Candlestick park.

The Giants closed out their final road trip of the season yesterday with a 5-1 victory for Gaylord Perry over the Chicago Cubs.

They begin their final home stand tomorrow against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Yesterday's win was sparked by Jimmy Davenport, who singled his first three times at the plate, then capped the day with a homer in the fifth. It was Davenport's fifth long ball this year.

The victory tightened the Giant's hold on second place in the National League standings and gave them a 40-40 record on the road for the year.

PERRY 15-15

The game brought Perry's season record to 15 wins and 15 losses. The losing pitcher was Rich Nye (13-10). The Cubs used 6 pitchers.

The Giants scored once in the first, with singles by Davenport, Willie Mays and Jack Hiatt. Davenport singled, Mays walked and Jim Ray Hart tripled to score two in the third.

San Francisco got its fourth run with Davenport's homer. The fifth run came as a relief to Hal Lanier, who had not hit in 20 times at bat before singling home Frank Johnson in the sixth.

A dropped-ball error by Mays in the fifth inning let Randy Hundley get on base with a short fly to center. This accounted for the Cubs' only score when Don Kessinger singled him home.

The victory brought the Giants' season record against the Cubs to eight wins and 10 losses.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Placekicker Booth Lusteg, who ranked No. 2 among the American Football League scorers last season, has been acquired by the New York Jets from the Miami Dolphins for the waiver price.

Australian Yacht Tries Bay Waters

By DAVID DIETZ

"Lookit 'er," Australian Robert Hagley joked in an accent that could be associated with Brooklyn's Flatbush Avenue, "she's doing 10 knawts just sitting there."

Hagley nearly was right. Perched on wooden horses at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, the 18-foot skiff looked like a full-race surfboard. Her gleaming cedar hull started with a sharp, graceful bow and carried flatly to a short stern.

The "TraveLodge," named for the motel firm which sponsored her in Australian and New Zealand races, was world champion twice, the last time in 1965-66. She was shipped to Hagley recently by the Australian football club which formerly owned her.

TO PROMOTE INTEREST

Hagley, 26, her former jib hand, now lives in San Francisco, where he works as ticket office supervisor for Qantas Airways. He hopes to promote U.S. interest in 18-footer racing.

"Aye-deens are a big thing back 'ome; a really big thing," he drawled. "I would say that, over a yea', they get more publicity than the America's Cup."

In this country, Flying Dutchman is the only popular class that compares, and Hagley is hoping for a match race on the bay next month. The 18-footer also will be taken to San Diego and Newport Beach to race.

CREW OF FOUR

Dutchmen are 20-footers with three-man crews. Eighteens have a crew of four. Hagley may also race a Tempest, representing a new class of 20-footers scheduled to replace the Dutchmen in Olympic competition.

The 18-footers are as much a part of eastern Australia as the schooner of lager. They have a skittering, slashing style, attracting thousands of spectators to a Sunday race on Sydney Harbor.

"That's the one bad thing about it," Hagley said. "You'll go into the club after a race you've lost, and a guy who's lost some money on you'll say, "ere, 'ere . . . whot happen' today?"

The skiffs are treacherous, sometimes bursting spinnakers as large as 1,000 square feet, which require support poles 23 feet long. On windward legs, three members of the crew extend off the side in a network of wires known as the "trapeze," designed to control the centerboard craft.

"GOT AWAY"

"The boat got away from us once and we were 'eaded toward an island. We 'ad to dump." Hagley says the TraveLodge has reached 18 knots.

He believes 18-footer racing has not developed here because of difficulty in assembling crews, diversity of interests in America and the cold water in San Francisco Bay.

The crew make-up here, besides Hagley at the helm, will be another Australian and two Americans. The other Aussie, Roger Andriesse, 24, a property superintendent for Qantas in San Francisco, quips:

"Did you 'ear what they're going to do with Dame Pattie? Chop 'er up and make five aye-deens out of 'er, that's whot."

Those Red Sox Do It Again

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Al Kaline, who struck early and often, got an early good night. Carl Yastrzemski, who saved his best shots for the late innings, had to stay around to the bitter end.

Kaline hit his 25th homer in the first inning of Detroit's 10-1 rout of the New York Yankees last night. After he doubled in the Tigers' run-scoring third and fifth innings, Al was sent home to put his feet up.

But the Red Sox, who have made comeback victories a way of life lately needed Yastrzemski every inch of the way against Cleveland.

He hit his 41st homer in the sixth inning then got his fourth hit in the ninth, a single, and rode home on Reggie Smith's single with the run that won the game 5-4.

DEADLOCK

The Red Sox stayed tied for the American League lead with Minnesota, which beat Kansas City 6-2 earlier in the day, while the Tigers remained in fourth place, one game out and a half-game behind third-place Chicago, which beat California 6-4.

Baltimore took a doubleheader from Washington 4-3 and 6-3 in 10 innings.

"These one-run games are more of a strain on you," said Yastrzemski. "It'd be less of a strain if we'd win 9-1 and lose by the same score."

Yastrzemski, who got his homer and two of his other hits off Cleveland's ace Sam McDowell, said, "I hit his mistakes. I have a day like this about every three weeks."

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith said Kaline's first-inning shot unglued Yankee starter Al Downing, who usually gives the Tigers a tough time. Don Wert, who seems completely recovered from his hamstring pull, added a homer in the eighth.

LOSES SHUTOUT

Joe Sparma, who gave up only seven hits, lost his shutout when Charlie Smith homered in the ninth. Sparma's record now is 15-9.

The Twins got all the hitting they needed from Tony Oliva and Bob Allison, who each hit two-run homers, but Harmon Killebrew drove in a couple of runs with singles just to make sure. Dean Chance won his 19th game, giving up just four hits and striking out 13.

The White Sox got a homer and three runs batted in from Tommie Agee and clutch relief pitching from Bob Locker, who pitched three innings of hitless ball before giving up a final run in the ninth. Rick Reichardt homered for the Angels.

Brooks Robinson hit his 21st homer and two doubles in the first Orioles' victory and Dave May's two-out double drove in the tie-breaking runs in the 10th inning of the nightcap.

Belvedere Yachtsman Takes Lead

Attorney Jim Michael's black-hulled sloop Baruna last night captured the lead in the St. Francis Yacht Club's Perpetual Trophy Series as the 10-yacht fleet reached the halfway mark of the four-race, week-long competition on San Francisco Bay.

With two races to go — tomorrow and Saturday — the 72-foot Baruna has totaled low of 2 ¾ points on the inverted scoring system. Second place Kialoa II has 5 points, followed in order by: Santana, 10; Spirit, 11; Orient 13; Sapata, 13; Stormvogel, 15; Audacious, 15; Chubasco, which withdrew; and Anitra, which did not finish yesterday.

Michael, of Belvedere, finished third in yesterday's second installment behing the South African scratch boat Stormvogel and Kialoa II. But in the handicap system, the defending champion had the best corrected time to head the field going into the home stretch. Baruna competed yesterday's 17.9-mile course in the lapsed time of 2 hours, 30 minutes, 52 seconds and the corrected time of 2:19.43.

With a third place finish in 1964, a second in 1965 and first last year, Baruna has the best record in this glamor series.

Tomorrow's third chapter starts at 1 p.m. off the St. Francis club in the San Francisco Marina.

Cal Coach Makes A Few Changes

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — California's Golden Bears went through their last contact practice yesterday before meeting the Irish at Notre Dame Saturday, and Coach Ray Willsey made a few changes in his offensive lineup.

After the scout offense scored twice, Willsey moved Jim Calkins, San Diego sophomore, in as tight end in place of Ned Anderson. He shifted Jim Russell to fullback from the halfback position he has been playing. Jim Sheridan, a fullback who has been recovering from an injury, showed up well on the scout team.

Tamalpais To Host Salesian

The only afternoon game on Marin County's practice schedule tomorrow will start at 3:30 o'clock.

"We made an awful lot of mistakes and killed ourselves with them," said Hector of last weekend's opener. "I think we'll need another week to really jell. Due to some of our boys working at various jobs, we'd been together as a unit only about a week before our first game. Riordan executed their plays like they'd been working as a unit right from the first day of practice."

Asked about Salesian, a 20-6 loser to Novato last week, Hector shrugged: "Our game was played at the same time as theirs so I didn't get a chance to look at them. We have a scouting report, but I still don't know what to expect."

ADJUSTMENTS

Hector made some adjustments this week in practice, including transferring tackle Verdeen Herbel and guard John Cathey from starting defense to starting offense.

Don Mackin, who completed 6 of 14 passes for 66 yards against Riordan, will be at quarterback. Mike Fowler, big ground gainer with 78 yards on 15 carries, will be at his customary halfback post to test the Salesian defense.

TAMALPAIS STARTING OFFENSE

Tam's probable starting offensive lineup: Leroy Barrow, LE; Herbel, LT; Cathey, LG; Charles McBride, C; Rich Geissinger, RG; Bruce Hildreth, RT; Robin Nelson, RE; Mackin, QB; Fowler and Luther Brown, HB; Ron Blasingame, FB.

Our Grid Teams Earning Praise

By GARY TISCHLER

This could be the year that somebody somewhere discovers that Marin County is something more than an expensive place to live.

They may find that Marin has high school football teams at least on a respectable par with most teams

The question probably wouldn't come up were it not that Marin high school teams invariably pass unnoticed in the post-season honor rolls and the pre-season ballyhoos. To the outside world, which begins roughly around the Golden Gate Bridge, Oakland, Petaluma and points beyond, Marin is still a rather plush playland of pretty trees, some beatniks in Sausalito, outrageous real estate and fog.

But football players? In Marin? Forget it!

AT LEAST FOUR teams from the cruel outside places found out differently last week — Salesian of Richmond, Washington of San Francisco, Petaluma and Santa Rosa, a good geographic cross-section.

None of the games were spectacularly close. Some of them had the distinct odor of massacres.

Either the teams mentioned were ill-prepared and untalented or the Marin teams (Novato, Redwood, Drake and Terra Linda) just might have been fairly decent clubs. We'd like to think it was a little of the latter.

According to pre-season prospectives, in particular the Cal-Prep Yearbook — a telescopic review of what's ahead — these teams were rated as fairly good outfits.

Perhaps it's rash to read a lot of meaning into a weekend that produced a 4-2 slate for Marin County Athletic League teams. But it is certainly nothing to be ashamed of.

MARIN TEAMS, in six games, outscored the opposition 129-57. That's nothing to sneeze at either.

This week's games will tell more of the story. The opposition includes powerful, perennially high-rated Vallejo as well as Petaluma, and Salesian again and McClymonds of Oakland, Montgomery of Santa Rosa and Poly of San Francisco.

ALL THE MCAL teams and gridders anywhere in the Bay Area should be at least a few pounds lighter by the time weekend action rolls around.

It's bad enough to sip a cold drink in the heat, but can you imagine donning shoulder pads and helmets and assorted gear for a couple of hours under that lovely sun?

FULL GRID SCHEDULE FOR MARIN'S TEAMS

Nicklaus Wins Favorite Role In Thunderbird

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI) — Powerful Jack Nicklaus, leading money winner on the professional golf circuit, carried the role of favorite today in the opening round of the $150,000 Thunderbird Classic.

Nicklaus, winner of four PGA tournaments this season, was tagged the favorite on the baiss of a four-under-par 68 shot yesterday in the pro-am kickoff to the 72-hole event over the exacting Upper Montclair Country Club.

Billy Casper, last year's leading money winner, also fired a 68 in the pro-am and was expected to challenge the pudgy Columbus, Ohio, golfer for the title.

Arnold Palmer, apparently well after being bothered by a hip pain, also was expected to make a strong bid for the title. The Laurel Valley, Pa., strongman had a 69 in the pro-am.

Others hoping to give the favorites a run for the money were Bob Charles of Australia, Homero Blancas of Houston, Tex. and Doug Sanders of Tulsa, Okla., all of whom had 69.

BIFF BUFF

"How can I solve the riddle of the Sphinx when I can't even solve the riddle of the 13th hole at Peacock Gap?"

Drake Gym Open

Drake High School's gymnasium will be open to adults and youngsters Thursday nights from 7 to 9:30 beginning tonight, it was announced by recreation director Bob Fitzhenry. Persons should bring their own gear, although there is no charge for the program, Fitzhenry said.

Special Deer Chase Scheduled: Reminder On Hunting Seasons

STEVENS

A special bulletin from the Southern Pacific Rod and Gun Club calls attention to this weekend when members who yearn for the sight of venison on the hoof get a chance on William Browning's Ranch in Nevada County.

The fee for the two days is only $2.50 per day, and any railroader can afford that amouunt. To get to Browning's spread, take Highway 40 to Auburn, then 49 through Nevada City. Thirteen miles to Peterson's Corner, then one-half mile on French Corral Road to large house on left side of road. Watch for Southern Pacific signs "160 miles from San Francisco," says Jack O'Connor. Try to get into camp Friday night for early drive Saturday morning. Man shooting deer takes half the animal, and leaves balance for the unlucky hunter. For any more specifics get in touch with Jack Connor, 2419 Jefferson Avenue, Berkeley.

YOU ARE REMINDED that Sunday draws the curtain on early deer season, and Saturday the season opens for late deer hunting.

Also, the special additional mountain quail season opens Saturday and it will be open season on Sierra and ruffled grouse the same day.

If you still have to bag your legal limit of doves, you'd better get on the ball, the season on doves in Northern California closes Oct. 10.

THE NEW WATERFOWL season in most of the state will open Oct. 14 and run through Jan. 7. It will be earlier in northeast California and the Colorado River area — Oct. 10 through Jan. 7.

The daily bag and possession limits will be six birds, with no more than 2 canvasbacks. The per-day and bag limits in the northeast and Colorado River will be five birds.

The goose season will run from Oct. 14 through Jan. 7 with same limits as last year. The general season area will have a limit of six geese per day, six in possession, of which three must be snow geese, and no more than three may be of the dark species.

In the northeast, the limit will be three per day, six in possession.

Walking, Bicycle Racing Part Of Fairfax Festival

Walking and bicycle racing will be part of the second annual Fairfax Festival this weekend.

The walking won't be like a Sunday stroll, however. There will be about 25 men competing in a five-mile walking race through the Fairfax streets Saturday, starting at 1 p.m. The event, sanctioned by the Pacific Association of the AU, will start near the intersection of Broadway and Bolinas Road.

Then Sunday will be the bicycle race with a 9 a.m. starting time at the same spot, near Broadway and Bolinas Road. About 100 riders are expected to compete.

Among the top riders will be Bob Parsons of Berkeley, national road champion Pan-Am rider; Bob Tetzlaff of Los Gatos, national road champ in 1966 and Pan-Am coach this year; Dan Butler of Santa Rosa, voted most aggressive rider in 1966 and member of the U.S. Pan-Am team, and Dave Mulky of Woodside, also a member of the U.S. Pan-Am team and winner of the Mount Hamilton race earlier this year.

Top Amateur Tennis Stars In Berkeley

The cream of the world's top amateur tennis talent will be sporting its wares when the 78th annual Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships get underway Sunday at the Berkeley Tennis Club.

Among the top male entrants are Clark Graebner, second-ranked player in the U. S. and Jan Leschly of Denmark, who fought in a stirring five-setter semi-final match in the U. S. Nationals two weeks ago.

There's also fiery Cliff Richey of Dallas, Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico, Torbin Ulbrich of Sweden, Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., and South African stars Bob Hewitt and Ray Moore.

The ladies competition will be highlighted by the top woman player in the world, Billy Jean King, the Wimbledon and U. S. champion. There's also youthful Rosie Casals of San Francisco and Francoise Durr of France.

Matt Snell has gained 1,003 yards on passes and 2,355 yards on rushes during his three seasons with the New York Jets.

Softball Tournament Slated This Weekend

The San Rafael Recreation Department will hold its third Softball Tournament Friday through Sunday.

The first tourney game will start at 9 p.m. Friday with Perachiotti Realty battling the Marin Catholic All-Stars.

Saturday's first tourney game will pit Marinwood Athletic Club against Hamilton Air Force Base Sergeants Association at 4 p.m. Following that game will be E & E Chevron against the San Rafael Jaycees at 5 p.m.; Fairchild vs. San Rafael Fire Department at 6:15 p.m.; Cal's Steakhouse vs. Dexter Pontiac at 7:30, and San Rafael Post Office vs. Cliff's Chevron, 8:45.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Event To Celebrate: Rail Service Again

Next Wednesday should be a day for celebration in San Rafael.

On that day, Marin's county seat will again be "on the railroad."

It has taken six years, two months and one week to get rail service through San Rafael restored since the disastrous Puerto Suello Tunnel fire of July 20, 1961.

IT HAS COST the City of San Rafael and the County of Marin $52,632.69 to force restoration of service: $5,000 to engineers J. P. Hawke and Associates for a survey of the tunnel soon after the collapse, and $47,632.69 in legal fees to attorney Boris H. Lakusta of the firm of Graham, James and Rolph, who successfully fought through Interstate Commerce Commission and state and federal courts the railroad's attempt to permanently abandon the line.

It has cost Northwestern Pacific over a million dollars to rebuild the tunnel. How much NWP's parent, Southern Pacific Co., spent on its own unsuccessful legal battle is its own secret.

ALL THIS represents a considerable investment in the future of San Rafael. So restoration of rail service — even though only one freight train a day initially — should be occasion for some kind of community recognition.

Clifford S. Lund, San Rafael Chamber of Commerce president, has promised the event will not go unnoticed. He has named a committee to work up some kind of "first train" ceremony.

Frank George of Redwood Travel Advisors has another idea to note the restoration of train service: a passenger excursion train over the restored main line to Eureka.

George proposes that the San Rafael Kiwanis Club sponsor the excursion, with assistance from other Kiwanis Clubs along the line.

There won't be time to get the excursion at the very start of restored rail service, of course, but George hopes to schedule it within a few weeks. He has suggested it might be made an annual affair hereafter on the anniversary of restored rail service.

WITH RAILROADS occupying an increasingly important place in planning to solve problems attendant on ever-increased highway travel (though little if any of this attention is due to any effort of railroad officials), an idea like George's strikes us as particularly appropriate.

What's That Again?

It-Depends-On-What-Day-You - Ask-Me Department:

"The cost (of the Family Rehabilitation Center) is fantastic — $1,200 per child per month — and the program doesn't seem to work. . . . In my opinion, there is an excellent chance of saving about $200,000 in the cost of the new (Juvenile Hall) wing and also a part of FRC operating budget of $186,000" by closing the center. — Supervisor Chairman Thomas T. Storer on Friday, Sept. 15.

"I'm not prepared today to phase out this program." — Storer on Tuesday, Sept. 19.

Let Them Eat Cake

Marin dentists may soon be advising parents to let their children eat sweets. This may result from studies now underway at the National Institute of Dental Research.

These studies tend to show that relatively large amounts of sugar have little decay promoting properties when taken in conjunction with certain other foods, such as calcium phosphate, protein, etc.

Good news for junior? Maybe.

UNUSUAL WILL LEFT BY BUSINESSMAN

A Cleveland businessman left a large part of his estate to the first 50 persons bearing his name who notified the administrators of his will.

The claimants did not have to be related to him, but they had to live in the 10-county area around Cleveland, and have two or more children of their own. Each of the 50 received about $800.

The announcement in two Cleveland newspapers touched off hundreds of phone calls from people bearing the deceased man's name.

Each individual has his own particular way of leaving the world richer for his having been in it. It seldom takes such a form as this. The important thing is the desire to be of enduring service to man.

The self-sacrificing parent, the dedicated writer or the responsible public servant, for example, all leave behind them a continuing legacy — even though its value may be best known only to God.

"Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord your God which He has given you."

(Deuteronomy 16:17)

Let us all think and act in terms of what we can contribute to the good of everybody, O Father.

Tax Increase May Abet Delinquency

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: taxes. To whom it may concern in the government:

I am a divorced mother with three children, working hard at the office and also at home in order to keep the house that I possess in good shape and also to give the children a good home. By doing this, I am depriving myself of personal social activities which I need very much, believe me.

With the raise in taxes I am going to be compelled to look for an extra part-time job in order to pay for them.

My children are good citizens, so far, but what is going to happen if they are having less parental supervision? They are a little bit too old to have a baby sitter, but not matured adults.

Is this constant raise in taxes going to force mothers to go to work — or work longer as in my case — and maybe breed juvenile delinquents? They bring an added expense to the state, you know. Think about it.

Personally, on ALL elections I am going to vote "NO" on any issue which might bring any raise in taxes . . . But I will vote "YES" on any issue which will reduce taxes. I am sure that everyone is longing for a reduction in the spending of taxpayers' money. Cut down expenses! Don't create new ones! Is it any impossible thing to do? Does anyone agree with me or am I just a dreamer?

Closing Of Family Center Deplored

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have worked at the Family Rehabilitation Center since September of '65. After two years of struggling with these adolescents I am thoroughly convinced of the workability and value of such a program.

There are positive results although not the kind of results that the original supporters anticipated. This is largely due to two things: One, that the expectations were too high and two, that the program has never been given a chance to operate as originally planned. Let me explain that it took an initial settling period (i.e. acclimating staff and youngsters to a workable program) of 8-10 months. Soon after it came under "investigation" and continued to operate under some type of investigation from that point on. It is hard to convince an adolescent of a promising future when the future is so insecure. Rehabilitation under those conditions is next to impossible.

It is too bad that a program of this calibre is being terminated before it had an even chance of survival. Better that it had never begun than to have begun without promise of survival.

Marin Landscape Reversed In Photo

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After reading my Sept. 9 edition of the I-J, I was filled with fright. I said to my husband, "They have really changed my beloved Marin." Then I realized that the photo on page 17 must have been printed backwards.

I enjoy my paper. It keeps me in touch with all haunts and friends.

United Markets Not Selling To Chain

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Rumors have been circulating around Marin County that United Markets of Marin have been sold to an eastern chain. Be advised that this is not so. United Markets has always been a local, home owned enterprise since 1955 and we intend to keep it that way. My brother Joe manages the San Rafael market and my son Fred manages the San Anselmo market.

We love Marin County, our homes and our markets too much to even think of leaving and last but not least, we enjoy chit-chatting with our customers who are also our neighbors and friends.

Horse Racing Bill Signature 'Explained'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial on the bill legalizing night horse racing was very interesting, but not surprising.

It is a well known fact that wealthy Henry Salvatori, backer of Reagan, holds to top interest in the business of night horse racing.

Isn't it also very interesting that Reagan recently signed a bill to the advantage of the "oil interests" in California, in regards to taxes? Mr. Salvatori also is in the oil business.

Does anyone question the fact that Henry Salvatori, and auto magnate Holmes Tuttle, backers of Reagan, are really running our state?

Tax Bills Dictate Bond Election Date

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The I-J revealed an upcoming multi-million dollar San Rafael School District bond election is set for Oct. 24, 1967.

The San Rafael School Board, on Aug. 1, 1967, decided the best date for this election would be Nov. 7, 1967 in conjunction with a Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors election. However, our elected board members also considered alternative dates of Oct. 24 (or Oct. 17) and, in the Aug. 1 meeting minutes, the reasoning was, " . . . unless an investigation by the administration indicates that the tax bills will be mailed prior to the date (Nov. 7) in which case the election shall be set for Oct. 24 . . .".

It would appear, fellow taxpayers, that we can expect a severe jolt with the anticipated tax bills. Our elected school board obviously wants to get this election out of the way before we are to receive these apparently unpleasant notices.

I wonder why . . . ? ?

Bob Sylvester tells about a loquacious taxi driver who deposited his fare in front of a shiny, obviously new 20-story apartment house, and commented, "That's a pretty sharp building you live in, Buddy." "It's one of the new condominiums," explained the fare. The cabbie was startled. "Imagine a swank place like that being condemned already!" he commented as he drove off.

President Johnson's devotion to his wife, Lady Bird, is one of the first things noted by anybody fortunate enough to be invited to the White House for a visit. The President once observed, "Only two things are necessary to keep one's wife happy. First is to let her think she's having her own way. Second is to let her have it."

A garage mechanic called to a lady motorist from under her car, "There's a short circuit in your ignition." "Well, don't just lie there," she admonished him. "Lengthen it"

Impending Fall Of Mao May Plunge China Into Anarchy

WASHINGTON — Much evidence seeping through the bamboo curtain suggests that the regime of Mao Tse-tung is in mounting — perhaps fatal — trouble.

Mao launched a revolution to save pure communism, but has lost control of it. The result is that anarchy is today stalking much of Red China.

Because so much of what is going on is concealed by censorship, responsible China-watchers stop short of flat predictions of what lies imminently ahead. But the almost unanimous judgements which come from the best intelligence inside and outside China are:

That the country is dissolving into chaos.

That only in the provinces surrounding Peking and in a few others are Maoist supporters in effective control.

THE CHINA specialists, who pore over the mainland Communist press, who listen to every Peking broadcast, who interview travelers from China, and who have other sources of intelligence — they are beginning to talk about the prospect of "political and social collapse."

One of the most authoritative, documented, first-hand reports comes from Harald Munthe-Kaas, who has been reporting from China as best he could for the Sunday Times of London. He is out now and can write freely. His conclusion is this:

"In my opinion, only extraordinary outside events, such as a U.S. invasion of China, can prevent a break-up of that country as we know it today. If that disintergration does happen, then a new political low-pressure zone will be created in Asia, with incalculable effects on the world balance of power."

ANOTHER trustworthy China specialist, whose assessments have almost invariably been sound, is writing about "the telltale signs of a dynasty (Mao's) near collapse." His latest report is that "Mao's position appears near to hopeless, even if he eventually decides to adopt a wholesale policy of compromise."

On the suface Mao's actions seem almost inexplicable. For more than a year we have watched a revolution against the government of Red China by its founder and leader. To Mao this is in no way irrational. Mao saw his pragmatic fellow Communist colleagues finding pure communism unworkable and steadily moving to adapt Communist doctrine to economic reality.

Mao was determined to prevent this kind of Soviet-style revisionism. He felt there was no hope for preserving pure communism if authority was left with Mao's own generation of Communist leaders. This is why Mao has sought to invest the young Red Guards with power and revolutionary zeal — to intimidate the party and prepare a newly dedicated generation to carry out the "thoughts of Mao" — unadulterated.

BUT IT ISN'T working out that way. One analyst described the cultural revolution as controlled mayhem." Today it is approacjing uncontrolled anarchy.

Mao has been trying to suspend the revolution he himself launched — and it won't suspend.

Mao has directed the Red Guards to cool off — but they won't. He has had to call on the People's Liberation Army for support and has encountered open defiance from within the army.

Obviously the end is not in sight, but one possible end is the break-up of the central government with provincial Communist war lords competing for power.

President's Proposed Tax Hike Hits Average Taxpayer Hardest

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Although President Johnson terms his proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge a "progressive" tax measure, members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee are far from convinced.

Their staff has come up with facts and figures to show that for the average taxpayer in the $8,000 to $10,000 bracket the proposed surcharge is "regressive."

In other words, the administration's proposal soaks the 4,200,000 taxpayers in this middle-income tax bracket harder than others, including the very rich or the poor.

The committee's staff discovered that the 10 per cent surcharge, if imposed, will wipe out all of the income tax reduction these taxpayers received in 1964.

THAT ISN'T THE CASE with other taxpayers.

Those below $8,000 and those above $10,000 generally retain part of the benefits of the tax reduction of three years ago.

The staff found that the $8,000 bracket taxpayer will fork over $33 more than he did in 1963 under the President's proposed tax boost, and the man with a $10,000 income, an extra $13.

The individual declaring an income of $50,000, according to the staff's report, will pay $1,089 less taxes than he did in 963. The $25,000 man will pay $325 less, the $15,000 person $58 less.

The relatively poor won't do badly, either.

The man with a $5,000 income will save $84 and the $3,000 man $38, compared with the 1963 payments, although all will be paying more taxes than at present.

MAKING IT FAIR — Members of the House Ways and Means Committee, who favor delaying a tax vote until next year, are now using these findings to support their arguments for further study of the President's 10 per cent surcharge proposal.

If there is to be a tax boost, they contend, the committee needs more time to draft legislation that will not wipe out all of the 1964 tax resuction for these middle-bracket families.

Because of the large number of taxpayers involved, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman, is expected to postpone action and look for a formula that will not unduly penalize the middle income group.

KOREA - VIETNAM CONTRAST — White House officials are using a new approach in trying to sell the proposed 10 per cent surcharge to balking Ways and Means Committee members.

In support of an immediate tax hike, they are circulating a Treasury memorandum contrasting taxes imposed during the Korean war with those being sought to finance the Veitnam fighting.

"By Korean war standards," the memorandum claims, "the economic burden of the conflict in Vietnam remains light on both individual and corporate taxpayers."

A GROWING PROBLEM — Poor families with female heads are one of the few poverty groups (with less than $3,000 income) which have increased in size during the past seven years.

That is one of the most interesting findings of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare during a year-long study of the Office of Economic Opportunity's handling of the multi-billion-dollar anti-poverty program.

Prepared for the Senate, the committee's study reveals that the number of children living in such families grew from 4 million in 1960 to 4.4 million in 1966.

The committee recommends two means through which these fatherless families can escape poverty: (1; by increasing payments under public assistance or' adopting an alternative program, such as a family allowance or negative income tax; (2) training and employment opportunities so that the mothers are able to support their families.

Citizens, EOC In 'No Quarter' War Over San Geronimo Poverty

It is rare when a public controversy lacks some conciliatory force, but the current dogfight over the propriety of an anti-poverty program in the San Geronimo Valley is that exception.

Perhaps never before in Marin has there been a greater need for mediation — let alone simple cooperation and courtesy. The residents, who do not want a federally financed poverty program, and the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council, which does, are sharply divided. There is no sign of good will.

EACH BLAMES the other. The EOC claims residents prejudged opposition to a self-help program for the poor, while the inhabitants, amid offers to help the poor themselves, assert the valley does not meet poverty requirements as a target area.

If the residents' contention is true, the EOC should say so. But such an admission should not serve as an escape lever for the valley. The area's poor have received their neighbors' pledges of help which should not be retracted.

Ideally, the residents could work with the EOC to establish a small, though enterprising, program that may attract private funds.

HOWEVER, THE present course finds the EOC and the valley drifting farther apart. This is caused largely by the actions of the San Geronimo-Nicasio Valleys Target Area Action Board, created to determine the need for an anti-poverty program through a resident survey.

While it is to be applauded for progress on this front, the board, conversely, is devilishly fond of launching into attacks on the anti-poverty war in general and the EOC in particular when it has finished discussing progress of the survey at meetings.

Clearly, the job of eliminating poverty — while admittedly of dubious character — is no business of the board's. The meetings should stick to survey issues.

If members wish to voice grievances about EOC procedure, meetings of the San Geronimo Valley Association, board of supervisors or the EOC board itself would serve. It is regrettable that EOC representatives have not attended recent meetings of the target board. This should be a regular practice, despite the controversy.

WITH NO ONE to answer members' remarks, the target board and its audiences have been sniping away freely at EOC salaries and procedure. A regular spectator, Mrs. Winifred Fredericks of Lagunitas, said Tuesday night she understood that EOC funds were being used in Mendocino County to underwrite costs of a law suit contesting the necessity of auto insurance on civil rights grounds.

Possibly truth but admittedly hearsay, the report seemed freely accepted.

San Rafael Rec Classes For All Ages

Classes for adults and children, ranging from art to play and ballet will be offered this fall by the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department.

Children aged 3 to 5 years may enter the "tiny tot" program which includes games, songs, arts and crafts.

Children attend one class a week, from 9:30 to 11 a.m., either Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, beginning the week of Oct. 2.

Classes will be conducted at Albert Field Clubhouse, B and Treanor streets. Registration will be from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Monday at the clubhouse.

A creative dance class for youngsters 3 to 5 is being offered at the Community Recreation Center, Second and Brooks streets. Eight one-hour sessions are offered with students having a choice of hours beginning at 9, 10, or 11 a.m. on Mondays, beginning Oct. 2.

Registration will be at 10 a.m. Monday at the center.

For children 7 to 12 years of age, there will be a modern ballet class in eight one-hour sessions at the recreation center.

Children 7 to 9 will have class from 10 to 11 a.m. Saturdays; 10 to 12-year-olds are scheduled from 11 a.m. to noon, beginning Oct. 7. Registration will be at the first class meeting.

For adults, the recreation department offers a class in "Art and Perception of Seeing" from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays, beginning Oct. 5, for eight sessions.

Class members will work with pen and ink, printing, clay, found objects and collage. Registration will be at the community center or recreation office at city hall up to a week prior to the first class, or at the first class.

Carrier Tarawa To Be A Museum

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The aircraft carrier Tarawa is bound for Providence, R.I., where she is to become a war memorial and museum.

The 33,000-ton, 888-foot vessel, declared surplus by the Navy, was towed out of the Philadelphia Navy Yard Tuesday to start her voyage to Providence.

Horatio Alger, No Bleeding Heart Called The Turn On This One

With all deference to the academy, I suggest that the title for one of its favorite courses, "Political Science," is a patent misnomer. For, whatever else politics is, it is very far from being an exact science. Otherwise, no politico would ever blunder.

It is, rather, an art — indeed, it has been called "the art of the possible." And there are times when I deem it one of the black arts, practiced of old by conjurors and witches and now by their descendants.

Compare it with mathematics, and see how unscientific it is. In proving a geometric theorem, both liberals and conservatives apply the time-honored axioms of Euclid and arrive at the same conclusion. They then proudly write "Q.E.D.," confident they cannot be reversed even by a 5 to 4 decision of the Supreme Court.

Let us concede for a moment — if we can keep the truce that long — that both liberals and conservatives want the best of all possible worlds. But for political problems, alas, there are no Euclidian axioms, and each of us sees things from his own point of view. Starting with totally different premises — and prejudices — it is inevitable that we wind up with totally divergent conclusions.

E.G., I RECENTLY heard Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Penn., argue the case for the Welfare State on Bill Buckley's TV program. Though the senator was born on the right side of the tracks, his heart beats firmly for the denizens of the "ghetto," which, in New Speak, is any area where several families of the same general background reside.

He told the case of a young Italian immigrant, brought to this country as an infant, who grew up in a household in which there were no books and to which no daily paper ever came.

To the senator, this tragic tale had an obvious moral. Only by massive federal aid could such a disadvantaged child start life on an equal footing with those more privileged. Simple human compassion demanded it, and a country as rich as ours could well afford it.

The highly moving plea might have been more effective with me if the senator hadn't made one mistake. Though he didn't go on to tell us what became of the pitiful urchin, in passing he did mention the lad's name.

THAT'S WHERE he lost me, for the youth turned out to be Anthony J. Celebrezze, who managed somehow to do fairly well even without the Welfare State's bounty.

Mr. Celebrezze was graduated from Ohio Northern, and was later admitted to the bar. In 1951 Ohio sent him to the state senate; in 1953 he won the first of five consecutive terms as mayor of Cleveland; and in 1962 President Kennedy appointed him to the Cabinet.

Call me hard-hearted, but as soon as I realized whom the senator was discussing, he didn't jerk another tear out of me. I cheer, not weep, when I get a Horatio Alger hero. And the way the Celebrezzes staged and won their own anti-poverty war makes anything Sargent Shriver offers seem vapid indeed.

CLIMB OUT of that Ivory Tower and have a good look around, senator, and you'll see that Celebrezze's is not an exceptional case, but the norm.

Millions of immigrants came here with limited education but plenty of courage, determined that their children should have the opportunities offered by this blessed land. To that end they toiled and scrimped and saved — just as older-line Americans had done before them.

They asked for a chance — not a dole. They taught their youngsters the homely but eternal virtues of honesty and decency and the responsibility of standing on your own two feet. And ninety-five per cent of them found fulmillment as they watched their sons and daughters grow to manhood as honest and decent and upstanding members of the community.

True enough, they didn't all make the Cabinet. But, come to think of it, senator, not all rich men's sons have made it, either. And what is Shriver doing about that?
